LOUISIANA LOWLANDSSWOLLEN RIVERS CONTINUE TO
OVERFLOW AROUND VILLAGES
AND FARM HOMES

Shreveport, La., May 29.—(U.P.)—Relief workers battled rising waters today to carry food and clothing to more than 4,000 persons who have been driven from their homes by floods in Louisiana lowlands.

Swollen rivers continued to overflow around villages and farm homes in many sections of the state. Five towns were reported under water and at least one death was known to have been caused.

Refugees were suffering from exposure and lack of food in several districts, it was said. They were huddled together on hilltops and in Red Cross emergency camps after being driven from their homes without even time to take their personal belongings.

Communication lines into the flood swept areas were washed away and highways were inundated. Relief work progressed slowly because of these handicaps and it was feared serious suffering would be caused to many of the homeless.

The villages of West Dale, East Point, Critchton, Armistead and Abington were under water. Floods also threatened Alexander and Matchitoches where volunteers worked desperately to strengthen the levees.

After a survey of the stricken districts, State Representative James Aswell said conditions were comparable to the disaster of 1927.

The only known death was that of William Lafton, Grant Parrish, who was drowned in the Red river.

Shreveport, La., May 29.—Loss of life due to devastating flood waters of the Red river, that have driven 6,000 persons from their homes, increased today as Red Cross workers checked inundated areas.

They reported six lives lost: William Lafton, Grant Parrish, an unidentified white man; two children at Haynesville, La.; two negroes near Minden, La.

Five towns were under water and conditions along the lower reaches of the river became critical as the overflow moved on.

State Supreme Court
Affirms Conviction of
Alderman Sweeney

St. Paul, May 29.—(U.P.)—Alderman E. J. Sweeney of Minneapolis was unsuccessful today in his attempt to escape a prison sentence after conviction of bribery charges.

The state supreme court affirmed his conviction and sentence of not more than ten years in the state penitentiary at Stillwater and a fine of $2,500. Sweeney was arrested last night and taken to the Minneapolis jail.

Affirmation of Sweeney's conviction brought a close to the trials of four Minneapolis aldermen for bribe-taking. Two aldermen indicted by the grand jury after a six months investigation have not been convicted.

The case of Alderman Russell Sheffield has never been brought up for trial and Alderman W. H. Rendell, tried twice on graft charges, drew a "hung" jury each time.

Sweeney was convicted on the evidence of his friend and fellow third ward alderman, Fred Maurer. Maurer previously had been sent to Stillwater on bribe-taking charges.

In the graft cleanup Alderman Frank E. Giebelman pleaded guilty and John P. Elkberg, tenth ward council man, was sent to prison after his appeal was denied by the state supreme court last November.

The supreme court held that Maurer's testimony was competent to convict Sweeney since Maurer had not been Sweeney's accomplice.

NEW SPANISH WAR
VETERANS PENSION
BILL PREPARED

Washington, May 29.—(U.P.)—A new Spanish-American war veterans pension bill which would be satisfactory to President Hoover has been prepared for introduction in the house, Representative Knutson (Rep., St. Cloud, Minn.), chairman of the house pensions committee, announced today after conferring with Mr. Hoover.

Knutson said he had discussed the bill with the president and Mr. Hoover indicated he would sign the new measure if congress passes it.

The president vetoed the Spanish-American veterans pension bill yesterday on the general ground that it granted unwarranted pensions.

Knutson said he had made changes in the measure to meet these objections.

SOLDIER STRUCK
BY MOTORCYCLE
DIES OF INJURIES

Fort Snelling, Minn., May 29.—(U.P.)—Struck by a speeding motorcycle which was traveling on the wrong side of the street, according to witnesses, Private H. E. Harlow, 35, of the third infantry service company, died from injuries today.

Private D. E. Olmstead, who was returning to the fort with Harlow after they had spent the evening in Minneapolis, said he believed the cyclist was a civilian. Harlow was taken to the fort hospital where he died shortly after midnight from a fractured skull.

MATISMOLD ASSOCIATES WHO FOUGHT
WITH HIM 66 YEARS AGO ARE ENFEEBLED

Fairmont, W. Va., May 29.—(U.P.)—Though slightly hampered by rheumatism, John L. Skinner, 103, the oldest living civil war veteran, got out his cane today and walked a mile to town to reminisce with "the boys."

"The boys" were Skinner's cronies, comrades in blue who fought with him 66 years ago. Unlike the centenarian, most of them were enfeebled.

Skinner walked erect and his blue eyes were bright. Occasionally he winced as a rheumatism pain shot through his limbs.

Asked on the eve of Memorial Day what he thinks of the present day gestures toward peace, Skinner said he still believes there is "strength in the Union."

"But," he declared, "unless turmoil and political wrangling cease, even I may live to see another civil war."

Skinner who claims to have seen the first box of matches ever brought to America, expressed himself in favor of a world court or "a union," he said, "whereby brotherhood might be developed."

PATRON SAINT OF SONS
OF WILD JACKASSES
GETS APPEAL FOR AID

White Bear Lake, Minn., May 29.—(U.P.)—Senator George E. Moses was named patron saint of the Sons of Wild Jackasses when the order was founded last winter—but not, members said today, because they thought he was a philanthropist.

Mrs. Paul A. Schurr of Ulm, Germany, thinks differently. She addressed a letter to Senator Moses today in care of the "Sohne der Wilden Esel." She said that she was the mother of five young children and that her husband was sick.

"Most of the time we have hardly enough to eat. Most honorable Mr. Senator if you are not in a position to help me will you please bring my appeal up before the club of the Sons of Wild Jackasses? Perhaps there is one among them who would help a poor mother," the letter said.

CLOSELY GUARDED
MYSTERY PLANE IS
'RADICAL IN DESIGN'

Los Angeles, May 29.—(U.P.)—Closely guarded by officials, a mystery plane which is said to be "radical in design," is under construction at the Lockheed aircraft factory in Burbank for Captain Frank Hawks, noted trans-continental flier.

For what purpose Hawks intends to use the plane could not be learned, although it was said the ship will be for a daring long distance flight late this summer.

Hawks has been in New York since his recent trans-continental glider flight, but is expected to come here soon to inspect preliminary work on the plane.

'UNITED WE COLLECT;

GYPPED,' IS MOTTO

New York, May 29.—(U.P.)—"United we collect; divided we get gypped," is the motto of the United Furnished Room association, which has been organized to protect landladies and boarding-house proprietors from fly-by-night roomers.

The group received a charter yesterday to "disseminate information as to credit, and otherwise maintaining a service for locating and tracing individuals who may leave furnished room houses without paying their rent and owing rent in arrears."

Indian Business Disorganized, Petition
That Immediate Dominion Be Established22 COMMERCIAL

MAKE THE PLEANO HOPE FOR COLLAPSE OF
MOVEMENT INAUGURATED
BY MAHATMA GANDHI"2 COURSES OPEN TO BRITISH,
RULE BY SHEER FORCE OR
TO CONCILIATE"By WEBB MILLER
(United Press Staff Correspondent)

Bombay, May 29.—The disorganization of Indian business resulting from the independence campaign impelled the Federation of Indian Chambers of Commerce and Industry today to solicit Vice-Lord Irwin for a promise of immediate dominion status.

Only by granting dominion status, the federation of 22 important commercial organizations said, can peace be restored. There is no hope, it said, for collapse of the movement inaugurated more than two months ago by Mahatma Gandhi.

"Two courses are open," read the letter to Lord Irwin. "They are either to rule by sheer force, or to conciliate."

Reports of disorders were limited to Rangoon, Burma, where three days of communal rioting have brought the list of dead to at least 100, with another 900 injured.

The Rangoon rioting resulted from attempts to break a strike of dock workers there. Mulmein and Indian workers were imported to replace Burmese strikers who sought higher wages, and the latter engaged in fights with strike breakers.

The national congress committee here adopted a new line of attack when it dispatched 27 volunteers to Sholapur to defy the martial law regulations of that city, by hoisting a congress flag. Sholapur was placed under martial law after rioting in the city forced evacuation of all European women and children.

In addition, the congress proposed to renew the raids on the Wadala salt works and extend its defiance of other British laws, against which no opposition has been shown heretofore.

The raids on the Dharasana salt works, which have resulted in the arrest of three leaders of the campaign—Mahatma Gandhi, Abbas Tyabji and Mrs. Sarojini Naidu—also will be renewed.

The letter from the Federation of Indian Chambers of Commerce and Industry included a plea to invite Mahatma Gandhi to the round table conference in London next fall.

That letter was backed up by representations from H. A. Laljee, president of the Indian Merchants Chamber, to Sir Frederick Sykes, governor of Bombay, asking the release of Gandhi. Gandhi should be consulted before the government's plans were decided upon, Laljee said.

Calcutta, India, May 29.—Heavily armed police were ordered to the village of Nawabganj, near Dacca, today to put down a new outbreak of rioting in which several Europeans were injured.

A mob of 300 independence demonstrators attacked W. Cotton, superintendent of police at Dacca, and a detachment of police. An undetermined number of natives were injured.

Cotton's party had gone to Nawab-

DEATHPLANE CRASHES NEAR PRAIRIE
TOWN OF PINIELE,
MONTANA

Belle Fourche, S. D., May 29.—(U.P.)—A physician, a nurse and the pilot of an airplane that was making a race against death, were reported today to have met death themselves when the plane crashed near the little prairie town of Piniele, Mont.

Dr. A. S. Sherrill received an emergency call last night from a patient at Piniele, 80 miles from here, and immediately chartered a plane from the Belle Fourche Air Lines to make the trip, for Piniele is not on a railroad and highways were impassable.

With Robert Crawford at the controls and accompanied by a Miss Lindstrom, a nurse whom he hastily had engaged, the doctor took off in the dark for the Montana village.

Several hours later reports reached here at the air lines offices told of sudden disaster overtaking the plane when it was caught in a gale of wind and sent crashing to earth. The pilot and his passengers were understood to have been instantly killed.

The rioters seized his revolver and pushed him in a ditch, beating him severely. J. W. Atkins, managing agent for the Dacca Electric Company fired his revolver at the crowd, wounding one. The injured were taken to a hospital.

GRAF ZEPPELIN
HEADING TOWARDS
HAVANA, CUBAFLYING ALONG EASTERN COAST
OF SOUTH AMERICA
TODAYHOPES TO ARRIVE AT CUBAN
CAPITAL AT DAWN
TOMORROW

Pernambuco, Brazil, May 29.—(U.P.)—The Graf Zeppelin, having crossed the equator for the second time, was heading up the eastern coast of South America today towards Havana and Lakehurst, N. J.

More than half of its 3,000-mile flight from Pernambuco to Havana lay behind the big German dirigible today, placing its arrival at the Cuban capital approximately at dawn tomorrow.

The radio station at Giquia field, whence the dirigible departed at 11:13 A. M. yesterday (8:13 A. M. CST), received a message from the Zeppelin last night giving its position at 11:35 P. M. (8:35 P. M. CST.) as 80 miles north of the equator, approximately 1,200 miles from here. The ship at that time was flying well.

Rainy weather delayed departure five hours yesterday morning. The ship rose slowly and circled Giquia several times. Large crowds waved a farewell at the ship, which had been here a week except for a week-end trip to Rio de Janeiro.

Members of Pernambuco's German colony massed in the rain and sang the German national anthem in booming voices as the ropes were cast off.

Shortly before Dr. Eckener stepped aboard he told friends and newspaper men he expected to return, probably next September.

Dr. Eckener telegraphed President Washington Luis in Rio de Janeiro, thanking him for the welcome the Brazilian people had extended.

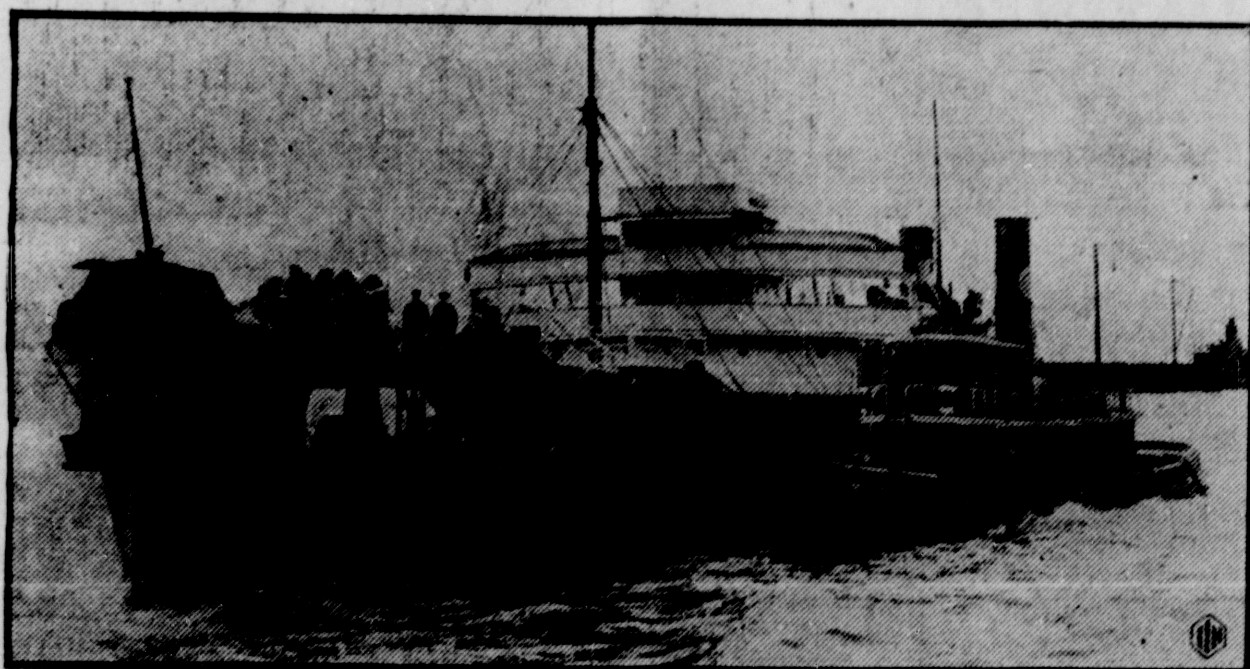

"I hope this first voyage of observation will be followed by many regular ones, assisting in tightening the bonds of friendship and the commercial relations between Brazil and central Europe," the telegram said.

New York, May 29.—The Graf Zeppelin was approximately 500 miles north and slightly east of Selem (Para) on the northern coast of Brazil at 3 A. M. CST, the Mackay Radio Company announced today. A message from the dirigible, which is en route from Pernambuco to Havana, said its position was 5:35 north, 46 west. The position was about 500 miles from Trinidad Island in the West Indies.

St. Paul, May 29.—(U.P.)—Mrs. J. H. Moore was killed last night when three cars piled up at a curve in South Roberts street. Two other persons were injured in the collision. Vernant Annerl and Frank Schmidt, drivers of the other cars, were held in Ramsey county jail for questioning today by the coroner.

DEMOCRATS IN
HEATED ARGUMENT
OVER PROVISIONCONGRESSIONAL CONFEREES
MAKE SECTION ABOUT SAME
AS PRESENT LAWABANDON ALL REFORM PRO-
POSALS OF THE SENATE
COALITIONISTS

Washington, May 29.—(U.P.)—President Hoover's plan to maintain his flexible tariff revision power was adopted today by the congressional conferees, and brought a heated democratic attack immediately upon the floor of the senate.

Acting under the loophole which Vice-President Curtis provided in his surprise ruling Tuesday, the congressional conferees again changed the flexible provision making it about the same as the present law and abandoning all the reform proposals of the senate coalitionists.

Angered at this action, the democrats, led by Senator Pat Harrison, democrat, Mississippi, walked to the floor of the senate and made charges that Mr. Hoover was behind the strange tariff activities of the last few days.

Harrison charged that the president's secretary, Walter Newton, was present at one time in the conference room with Chairman Smoot and Hawley of the senate and house conferees; that the Saturday night dash of four republican senators from the president's mountain camp back to Washington was inspired by the presidential plan to again change the flexible provision and that the provision itself "gives the president that power he has been craving, to pluck plums of campaign contributions and corral votes just before elections."

Harrison asserted Vice-President Curtis was acting for Mr. Hoover and against his own senatorial leaders in ruling that the flexible compromise was invalid, thereby opening the way for adoption of the new plan which preserves the presidential authority.

"This latest change has demolished all the work of the senate," said Harrison. "We now return to existing law. The president has finally won out. The trip of the four horsemen senators of the Rapidan was not in vain."

"I never saw senate conferees abandon their position more gleefully than the republican leaders surrendered in the conference committee this morning. They were glad the excuse was present."

Washington, May 29.—Most of the proposed tariff commission reforms were abandoned today by house and senate conferees, who reached an agreement upon the disputed flexible provision of the pending Smoot-Hawley tariff bill.

In their agreement, the conferees returned basically to the existing law which permits the tariff commission to adjust rates upward or downward by 50 per cent with presidential approval.

The new arrangement is said to be even more acceptable to President Hoover than the old compromise reform proposal nipped by Vice President Curtis in a senate ruling Tuesday.

The latest draft of the provision is understood to have been sent to the White House late last night when it received private presidential endorsement.

Elated at the swift agreement, Chairman Smoot of the senate conferees announced he would return his battered bill to the senate floor later in the day to renew the drive for an enactment.

Thus the democrats lose by the flurry which they started Tuesday when Senator Barkley, democrat, of Kentucky, lodged a point of order that the conferees exceeded their authority in writing the flexible compromise. They sought to restrict the power of the president and the tariff commission, but the latest agreement gives both the same power as in existing law.

Under the original compromise, the tariff commission would fix a rate adjustment and send their recommendation to the White House. The president would be required to affirm or veto it within 60 days and if he took no action within 70 days the recommendation of the commission became law.

Now the time limit would be eliminated. The rate recommendation of the tariff commission may be subjected to a pocket veto by the president if he chooses. He may endorse the commission rate or reject it, or file it and forget about it.

Half of Water Power in
State Held by Corporations

Staples, Minn., May 29.—(U.P.)—Over half the water power in the state has fallen into the hands of public service corporations without the state receiving the slightest return, Ray P. Chase, candidate for republican nomination for governor, said last night. A new state agency for the control of water power and the protection of natural resources is needed, he said.

City to Respond to Ceremonies Honoring Veterans

GRAVES DECORATED
BEAUTIFULLY FOR
RITES TOMORROWLONGEST PARADE IN MEMORIAL
DAY HISTORY HERE TO FORM
ON SOUTH SEVENTHPROGRAM AT EVERGREEN TO BE IMPRESSIVE; PATRIOTIC
GROUPS TAKE PART

Graves of veterans of wars fought to uphold the democracy of the United States were decorated beautifully at Evergreen cemetery today by comrades of these wars, women of auxiliaries, members of their families and friends in preparation for the observance of the Memorial Day program there tomorrow.

The flowers, nurtured at home gardens, others from greenhouses, gave forth the sweetest of perfume which floated over the rows of graves. Hundreds of small flags waved in the breeze.

Tomorrow's observance of Memorial Day will be the greatest in the history of this city.

The parade which forms on South Seventh street between 8:30 A. M. and 9 A. M. facing north with colors at Laurel Street, will stretch beyond a mile in length.

The line of march will be north on Seventh street to Front street, east on Front to Broadway, north on Broadway to Kingwood, east on Kingwood to Third Avenue N. E., north on Third Avenue N. E. to the Lowell school, west from Lowell school to southeast gate of Evergreen cemetery.

Order of march:

Colors.
Firing squad.
Brainerd city band.
Official carriages.
Legion Auxiliary band.
Spanish-American war veterans.
World war veterans.
Members of Citizens Military Training Camp.
High school.
Campfire girls.
Lowell school.
Brainerd Ladies' band.
Lincoln school.
Whittier school.
Harrison school.

Any organization not listed will be assigned to a place in the parade by marshal of the parade, O. A. Peterson.

Program at the cemetery:

Musical—Brainerd city band.
Invocation.
Musical—Legion Auxiliary band.
Lincoln's Gettysburg address—Clarence Holden.

Musical—High School Girls' Double Quartette.

Memorial Day address—O. F. Youngdahl, commander of the Fifth District, American Legion.

Musical—Brainerd Ladies' band.

G. A. R. ritual conducted by Commander Edwards.

Decoration of the cross by commander of the G. A. R. assisted by Women's Relief Corps.

Closing remarks—Mayor Frank E. Little.

Star Spangled Banner, lead by male quartet with band accompaniment.

Salute—Firing squad.

Taps, directed by Ira Peterson.

During the formation of the parade from 8:30 o'clock on Seventh Street, the street from Laurel to Oak should be vacated for traffic and parking purposes, and it will greatly aid the committee in charge if only the few official cars for the G. A. R. contingent appear on this street from Laurel to Oak.

Special amplifiers have been installed at the cemetery to carry the voices of the speakers to all the listeners.

Veterans Form Squads

Veterans of the World War who will form the squad to march in the Memorial parade tomorrow and to honor the Grand Army of the Republic with a salute at the cemetery will be Ray Hall, Axel Anderson, Fred Anderson, Leigh Slipp, Robt. Gustafson, Earl H. Rhodes, Melvin Viste and Ralph Falconer in the firing squad. George Berkholder and Ernest Jeppson, color bearers, and Ray Northway and Melvin Gordon, color guards.

Capt. I. L. Peterson, Inf. Res., assigned to take charge states that the men will meet at the court house at 8:30 a. m. where they will march to the Mississippi river bridge for the ceremony there at 9 o'clock. Robert Wilson will sound taps at the bridge and also at the cemetery.

Members of the squad will wear the war time uniform and overseas caps, except those in sailor uniforms and Capt. Peterson who has the present regulation uniform.

Candidates for the Citizens Military Training Camp will form in front of the Electric Garage at 9 o'clock to march in the parade. Art Hagberg, past commander of the Legion will take charge of the C. M. T. C.

These G. A. R. Veterans Get Favored Places In the Memorial Day Program Tomorrow

of 403 Vine street, active veteran, who in recalling his experiences in the Civil War made the statement that in several skirmishes including the "Georgia Campaign To the Sea," "The Battle of Atlanta" a battle near Resaca, Ga., serving under Generals Sherman and Thomas he was in the heat of the battles to the extent that he could all but smell the bullets as they whizzed by. He escaped by "the grace of God" unscathed. Mr. Fox will be 84 years old July 4.

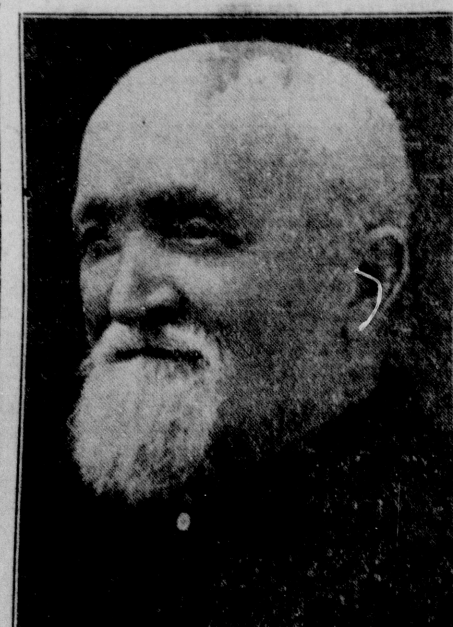

Clarence Lee Avery

who lives at 713 Pine street, is 84 years old and is enjoying health. He served 11 months in the army at Nashville and throughout Tennessee. He enlisted at Faribault when 17 years old with the 11th Minnesota Company D, Infantry.

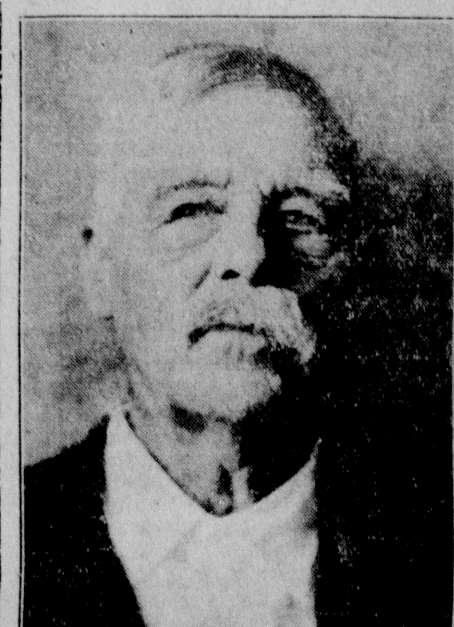

Elias Fenstermacher

the youngest of the veterans who was in the thick of the fighting doing scout work with a troop of cavalry at the age of 14 years. With little preliminary training he saw fighting in Tennessee. At one time he was in a company cut off from food for three weeks. He engaged in battle with bushwhackers who attempted to blow up the rail line between Chattanooga and Knoxville, Tenn. He lives at 601 Third avenue N. E. and is 79 years old.

Newton Malcolm Paine who lives at 308 North 4th street, is 86 years old and was promoted from private to sergeant. He enlisted in New York in the infantry at the beginning of the Civil War and saw service in several skirmishes. He has resided in Brainerd for 45 years and is widely known throughout the county.

Olney Edwards

Commander of the post who escaped injury in several musket fighting battles. He is 82 years old and served under General Lawler at Spanish Fort and Blakeley, Ala. Too young to enlist, being 15, he drove team for two and a half years in Missouri and enlisted on August 15, 1864 at Janesville, Wis., in the 29th Wisconsin Infantry.

W. E. Entriiken

who is 84 years old, and participated in Sherman's famous "March to the Sea" at the age of 18 years. He was promoted to the rank of sergeant from private. He is also an N. P. veteran living in this city since 1882. He resides at 419 North 10th street.

Noted British Prelate
Dies at Advanced Age

The Most Rev. Dr. Randall Thomas Davidson, former Archbishop of Canterbury and Primate of the Church of England, is dead at the age of eighty-two. Lord Davidson (he was raised to the peerage following his retirement from the primacy) led the Anglican Church through one of the most troublesome periods of its history as sponsor of the new prayer book proposed for the Church of England.

ABRAHAMSON SETS NEW POINT RECORD, WINS DECATHLON

SCORES 6464 TO DEFEAT SCHUETZ, LAST YEAR CHAMP

ART HAUTALA FINISHES THIRD FOR SECOND YEAR IN ROW IN SCHOOL MEET

ABRAHAMSON GOES OVER BAR AT 10 FEET 4 1/2 INCHES IN POLE VAULT

Setting a new point record for individual scoring in Brainerd high school decathlons, Alfred Abrahamson, senior, won this year's decathlon which came to a close yesterday afternoon at Gregory Park. In winning he accomplished an achievement for which he has trained consistently the past three years.

Abrahamson scored a total of 6464 points. Nathan Schuetz, last year's winner, finished second with 6336, and Art Hautala third with 5593.

The three finished in the top group last year also, Schuetz taking first, Abrahamson second and Hautala, third.

The high previous score made by an entry in the high school decathlon was set by Schuetz last year with 5589 points. Donald McNamara won the decathlon in 1928 with 5011 points.

Abrahamson improved in every event over last year, particularly in the high jump, pole vault and javelin. In 1928 he scored 2913, in 1929, 5129 and this year 6464.

First place winners in the various events follow:

75-yard dash—Hoffbauer, 8.7.
Discus throw—Schuetz, 82 feet, 6 in.
Broad jump—Schuetz, 18 feet, 9 in.
High jump—Abrahamson, Hautala, tie, 5 feet, 3 in.

220-yard dash—Schuetz, 28.8.
75 yard hurdles—Schuetz, 11.1.

Javelin—Abrahamson, 142 feet, 1 in.

Pole vault—Abrahamson, 10 feet, 4 1/2 in.

Shot put—Abrahamson, 33 feet, 6 1/2 inches.

VON PORAT BEATS GAGNON, GAME FIGHTER, BY K. O.

880-yard run—Moe, 2:11.9.

With the exception of the 75-yard dash a new record in each decathlon event was established.

The scores in this year's meet would have been greater had it not been for the fact that the runners ran against a strong wind.

Abrahamson, the winner, will enter the state meet at the University of Minnesota Saturday, June 7.

The decathlon was conducted under the direction of Coach Warren Kasch.

NOW CLAMORS FOR A MATCH WITH GRIFFITH

AS NEXT STEP IN CAMPAIGN FOR TITLE LEFT VACANT BY TUNNEY

NORWEGIAN HAD SOME DEADLY PUNCHES AND WEIGHT ADVANTAGE IN THE BOUT

By BERT DEMBY

(United Press Staff Correspondent)

Chicago, May 29.—(U.P.)—Otto Von Porat, the hard-hitting Norwegian heavyweight, today clamored for a match with Tuffy Griffiths, the Sioux City, Iowa, boxer, as the next step in his campaign to prove that he is the leading midwestern contender for the title left vacant by the retirement of Gene Tunney.

Von Porat's clamoring was based on his six-round knockout victory last night over Jack Gagnon, who previously achieved fame by scoring a technical knockout over Griffith, rated with Von Porat as one of the middle west's best heavyweights. Griffith subsequently avenged the knockout defeat by winning a ten-round decision here from Gagnon.

Last night, Von Porat was out to win by a knockout. He accomplished his purpose but in doing so he beat the gamest fighter who ever has appeared in the Chicago Stadium ring. Outclassed, but not outgamed, Gagnon was better at boxing than was Von Porat, but the Norwegian's deadly punches and weight advantage of 17 pounds proved too much for Jack.

It was a great fight with Gagnon doing most of the leading and Von Porat lying in wait to put over one of his deadly punches. It looked as though things had ended in the second round when Von Porat sent a straight left to the liver. Gagnon dropped and took a count of eight. He was down again before the round was over and was out on his feet when the third round started, but he fought back.

He avoided damaging punches until the sixth when he took a hard right to the jaw and a straight left to the liver. That straight left is Von Porat's most deadly punch.

The fight allowed fans to look forward to the greatest "natural" which Chicago can stage—a battle between Tuffy Griffiths and Otto Von Porat for supremacy of the heavyweight division in the middle west and an early match with the winner of the Sharkey-Schmeling fight in New York next month.

The referee wanted to stop last night's battle because of a badly bleeding cut over Gagnon's eye, but the Boston fighter refused, although he was virtually blinded with blood.

That's the kind of gameness Gagnon showed.

BULLDOGS DEFEAT WILDCATS, 11-7

SEVEN-INNING GAME PLAYED AT MUNICIPAL DIAMOND THIS MORNING

The Southeast Bulldogs defeated the Wildcats 11 to 7 in a seven-inning game played this morning at the municipal field. Ages of the players range from 14 to 16 years.

Batteries for the Bulldogs were Melvin Ahlgren and Victor Wise; for the Wildcats, Claude Jackson and Bruce Paine.

SLUGGING ROBINS GOING AGAINST NEW YORK GIANTS

WILL MAKE AN ATTEMPT TO REGAIN TIE FOR 1ST PLACE IN NATIONAL LEAGUE RACE

CAN TIE FOR THE LEAD IF THEY WIN THEIR GAME TODAY

(By United Press)

Manager Wilbert Robinson sent his slugging Brooklyn Robins against the New York Giants at Ebbets Field today in an attempt to regain a tie for first place in the National League pennant race.

The Robins, who were hopelessly in seventh place at this stage of the 1929 race, are in second place, one-half game behind the St. Louis Cardinals and can tie for the lead by winning today.

The Chicago-Cincinnati game today was cancelled in respect to the memory of Pitcher Harold Carlson who died yesterday.

Walter Stewart pitched the St. Louis Browns to a 4 to 2 win over Detroit in the only American League contest. The Chicago Cubs pounded out a 6 to 5 victory over Cincinnati and Philadelphia lost to Boston, 5 to 1, in the National League tilts.

Detroit got to Stewart for three hits and two runs in the opening inning but were unable to score again. Whitehill worked well for the Tigers but weakened in the eighth and the Browns tallied the winning runs on singles by Blue, Manush, Kress and Schulte.

A four-run attack in the first inning enabled the Cubs to beat Cincinnati. Guy Bush was batted from the mound in the sixth when the Reds scored three runs, but Malone was effective in the relief role.

Minneapolis, Minn., May 29.—Holding Kansas City batters to scattered hits, George Dumont pitched the Minneapolis Millers to victory in the third game of the series here yesterday, 3 to 1. A home run by Nick Cullop in the third inning with one on base provided the winning runs.

Toledo, May 29.—In a pitcher's duel between Fred Heimach and Americus Polli, Louisville eked out a twelve-inning victory over Toledo in the final game of the series here yesterday, 4 to 3.

Columbus, O., May 29.—Columbus made it two out of three against Indianapolis here yesterday by winning the third game of the series, 13 to 1. The Senators got 21 hits.

St. Paul, Minn., May 29.—Three double plays and the invincible pitching of Russell Van Atta enabled the St. Paul Saints to shut out Milwaukee in the final game of the series here yesterday, 5 to 0.

BOBBY JONES DEFEATS JOHNSTON AT ST. ANDREWS

ST. PAUL MAN LOSES IN SIXTH ROUND MATCH FOR BRITISH AMATEUR

BRILLIANT MATCH PLAYED, WITH JOHNSTON IN GRAND COMEBACK

By ARCH RODGERS

St. Andrews, Scotland, May 29.—Bobby Jones of Atlanta defeated Harrison Johnston of St. Paul, Minn., in a sixth round match of the British amateur golf championships here today. The score was one up.

The victory sent Jones into the quarter finals round, which will be played tomorrow morning with the semi-final coming tomorrow afternoon.

Jones will meet N. W. Fiddian of Stourbridge, who won in the sixth round over the star young British Walker Cup player, Tony Torrance.

Fiddian beat Torrance by 4 and 3. The Jones-Johnston match was a brilliant affair. Bobby had things fairly well his own way during the outward nine finishing one up. Johnston made a grand comeback on the last few holes after having been as much as four down with five to play.

Supreme Effort at Hand

By HARDIN BURNLEY

THIS week the world's sports not get odds against him—from speculative professionals at least.

However, golf's paragon from Atlanta, Ga., is sometimes human in play. Last Fall, Bobby entered the U. S. Amateur an overwhelming favorite. Yet he was eliminated in the very first match by a rank outsider, youthful Johnny Goodman.

Those brief 18-hole contests are loaded often with dynamite for great stars. Bobby has been the conspicuous victim of such short matches. But the experts figure he will take the "low hurdles" at St. Andrews in winning fashion.

Four times winner of the American Amateur, thrice the U. S. Open champion, and twice victor in the British Open, Jones has failed thus far to win the annual classic in which he is now the pronounced favorite.

The "Emperor" of golf is that good. In competition with at least a score of other very famous amateurs and fully a dozen highly skilled dark horses, Jones is such a pronounced favorite that, on the eve of the first matches, you can-

Regardless of the result, Bobby plans to play plenty of golf before returning to America early next Summer. He will enter the German Open at Berlin, June 5, re-cross the English Channel for the British Open later that month, shoot back to the Continent for the French Open at Paris, and, after a brief rest at his home, he will enter the U. S. Open, July 10-12.

In all but the amateur events, Jones will compete with his friend and arch-rival, Horton Smith, young Missouri pro. To many golf fans, those overseas tournaments will assume the aspects of duels. This year Horton nosed out Bobby at Savannah by a lone stroke, but less than a month later Jones was 13 better (and Smith was second) in their Southeastern tournament in play. This rivalry will be resumed in Europe. Some great duels are in prospect.

RIVETS MAKE THE TRUCK TANK GASOLINE-TIGHT

The TORRID ZONE STEEL FURNACE
is gas-tight
and dust-tight
because it is riveted

Walls and ceilings seldom have to be repapered or repainted in a home that's heated with a Torrid Zone

Furnace of boiler-plate steel. Floors, furniture and woodwork are singularly free from dust. It's all in the way this furnace is built.

For just as the truck tank is made gasoline-tight by hot-riveting and cold-calking... so the Torrid Zone is made gas, smoke and dust-tight.

And the air in a Torrid Zone equipped home is bound to be clean and healthful... for several reasons. First, the air is never tainted with coal-gas. Second, the air is moistfully healthful because a Torrid Zone humidifier has twice the evaporating area of ordinary water pans right inside the casing and, furthermore, is positioned for most rapid evaporation. Third, proper air circulation is guaranteed when a Lennox Furnace man installs according to the Standard Code. A Lennox Torrid Zone equipped home is a safe and healthy home for every member of the family.

And what's more, the Torrid Zone is economical. It is designed to heat with from 10% to 20% less fuel than ordinary furnaces. Whatever your fuel... hard coal, soft coal, coke, lignite, wood, gas, oil... it is sure to go farther with a Torrid Zone! Without a doubt, this is the finest heating unit that science has devised. Wherever it operates, in homes, churches, schools or stores, all the many advantages of warm air heating are fully realized.

Come in and see the interesting features. We want to show you its sturdy locomotive grater, its "lazy" shaker. We want to give you a booklet describing other features. Plans and estimates will be quickly furnished on request. Free engineering service from the factory for special problems. Made by the LENNOX FURNACE COMPANY, Syracuse, New York — Marshalltown, Iowa — Toronto, Canada.

CITIES SERVICE Oils AND Greases

The type of high-quality lubricants the manufacturer of your car urges you to use

THE manufacturer of your car knows the value of lubrication. He fully appreciates its relation to the amount of service and satisfaction you receive from the car he sold you. That is why he devotes page after page of his instruction book to emphasizing the absolute necessity of frequent and thorough lubrication with high-quality products.

Cities Service Oils and Greases are of the type the manufacturer of your car had in mind when he urged you to use high-quality lubricants.

These lubricants are made from carefully selected crudes of supreme quality. They are refined with an experience dating back to the very founding of the oil industry, over 67 years ago.

They are then put to the most conclusive of all tests—the test of actual service—before they are offered for your use. Their quality is proved in a practical proving ground—in the Cities Service fleet of over 4000 motor vehicles.

Follow your manufacturer's advice—use oils and greases of unquestionable quality, such as Cities Service Oils and Greases. Make a Cities Service station or dealer your headquarters for oiling and greasing. Then you'll be sure of quality products supplied by trained experts who know how to lubricate your car as its manufacturer intended.

Decoration Day

CITIZENS tomorrow will pay tribute to the soldiers, dead or living, who made sacrifices in behalf of this nation. Decoration Day will be universally observed with that respect and devotion which is their due.

Governor Theodore Christianson, in his proclamation has well voiced the spirit of the day when he said: "We are approaching the day which the people of this commonwealth and of the republic have consecrated to the memory of their noble and heroic dead. Gratitude for the sacrifices of the men who lost their lives that the nation might live, inspired the idea of Memorial Day."

"The thought which suggested the inauguration of a sacred custom has gained force during the years. Each generation has surpassed its predecessor in the sacred task of commemoration, and this year more flowers will be placed upon hallowed graves, more eulogies pronounced upon soldiers living and dead than on any previous thirtieth of May."

"It is well that a nation remember the men who have made sacrifices in its behalf. It is well that a people renew its faith in its ideals. It is well that men and women make fresh acknowledgment that human freedom is the noblest cause for which one may die, and the greatest purpose for which one may live."

"This is an age which places great emphasis upon material things. Thank God that there are days set apart on which are stressed the spiritual values of the race. For material progress will not avail, nor can it long continue, unless there are spiritual forces to guide, inspire and direct. Our country will mingle with the dust of empires dead and gone unless its people give renewed pledge from time to time to the ideals and hopes which gave it birth."

"So, with reverence for the dead and loyalty to the living, with pride in the nation's past and unswerving faith in its future, let us assemble again on Memorial Day, Friday, May 30, in public exercises in every cemetery within the state where soldier dead have found their resting place. Let us scatter the flowers of grateful memory, and place on every grave a flag, the symbol for which they died, the sign for which it is our proudest privilege and most sacred duty to live and labor."

The National Conference of Street Safety

For the first time since 1926, a national conference on street and highway safety has been called in Washington, says the Minneapolis Tribune editorially. In the four years that have elapsed since the last conference, almost everything that the conferees greatly feared has come upon them. The automobile fatality curve has steadily risen. The number of persons injured on our streets and highways has increased in depressing fashion. We have more automobiles today than in 1926, we have greater traffic congestion, and we have more reckless and incompetent drivers to the square yard of Sunday pavement than ever before.

Nevertheless the conference of 1926 may have had its salutary effects. As Mr. Hoover suggests to the delegates now assembled, there is no way of telling just how much worse conditions might have been if there had been no conference, and no national forum for the free interchange of ideas, plans, and experiences. The trouble with recommendations made by a body of this sort is not that they are bad recommendations, but that there is no very practical machinery for putting them into effect. The conference is an excellent clearing house for ideas, but it can provide no positive guarantee that the ideas will ever take on substance. This is, of course, the conference's outstanding weakness. Its value is limited, and rigidly, by the sincerity and interest which the individual state and individual community bring to it. But potentially, at least, these national conferences offer an important key to the traffic enigma. If the key is not used, or at least experimented with, that is simply the community's own stupid loss.

Graduation Day Coming

GRADUATION day for the high school class of 1930 will soon be here and they will leave the school for the tasks of life beyond the school confines.

Every school is a huge power station from which come volts of energy to carry on the work of the world. The graduate of today is the citizen of tomorrow in whose hands is entrusted the supreme duty of carrying on the tenets of this great republic.

In the work to come there is no guiding high school teacher at hand. One must rely, as Rev. A. G. Patterson said in the baccalaureate address, upon that Great Guide of all and follow the teachings of the Book of Books.

We have seen many of these high school classes and to the happiness of the occasion one often finds tears mingled. It is a proud day, but it also means the breaking of the many school ties, of class groups and associations and of going out into the world where one's individuality is given the supreme test.

Passive Resistance

THE passive resistance campaign inaugurated by the Mahatma Gandhi in India is nothing new.

The Russian people used the general idea when they were pestered by the invasion of Napoleon and his troops. The Russian peasants burned their homes and haystacks and destroyed whatever supplies they were unable to pack away, so that when the great commander and his troops arrived it was in a country which actually appeared famine stricken and one on which the soldiers could not live.

There was no Russian battle line to oppose him, no resistance. And Napoleon too has said that an army travels on its stomach, but traveling became desperate when there was little or no food for the army.

REID MURDOCK & Co., who operate pickle plants at Wadena, Deer Creek and Bertha, have sold their holdings and business to the Gedney Pickle Co. of Minneapolis. The price of cucumbers is reported higher this year than last season, according to new contracts written.

Formal Fabrics for Day Frocks

Black - and - White Printed Crepe Prominent; Green for Spring.

One attractive Sunday night frock of moderate formality comes in very stiff black net, several weights heavier than tulle. It has a perky little bow at the front of the high waist, a simple V neck and an overskirt which carries the hemline dangerously close to the ground, notes a fashion writer in the New York World.

Those who prefer to wear a less formal dress and to risk a frenzied dash home to change for supper, will find a number of diverting afternoon frocks in the stores. These follow the same silhouette as the Palm Beach models, but have been made up in dark colors for the sake of unfortunate little stay at homes.

A large group of these dresses is of the sort which Worth has dubbed five-to-eight gowns, exactly the sort you will require on Wednesday. In these black and white is by far the most important of the color combinations. Green is also stressed. If you cast your mind back over the past few years you will see the logic of this, as every other color has had its season, ending with the dahlia of the fall.

Buy everything of green, my girl, and you will be anticipating the spring mode by a commendable margin. The new nippon blue and crystal pink are shades designed primarily for Palm Beach wear, but they are excellent in combination with black.

One of the most charming of the new frocks of moderate formality comes in black-and-white printed flat crepe—a fabric that is important both for evening and daytime wear. The pattern is a splashy leaf design of black figures on a white ground, and it is draped about the figure by an ingenious arrangement which requires only one seam.

The skirt dips down to a definite point at one side and the broad black border of the material edges the hem. The self-belt is placed high. A top-sided cape collar of the fabric falls down to the elbow on one side and is caught up at the other by a pin of diamonds and emeralds (simulated as the advertisements honorably say).

Uses Three-Quarter Sleeves. Another of the striking dresses for afternoon wear is notable for its use of the very new three-quarter sleeves. The frock is of black flat crepe and hangs to a good four inches below the knee. The skirt is softened by a very full circular front. Nippon blue crepe forms a deep sailor collar and triangular vest and edges the full short sleeves.

This new sleeve development is something on which you should keep your eye in the coming months. Some of the three-quarter sleeves are to be crushed up above the elbows and buttoned tightly in place. Others hang loose. Worth uses a full, very soft sleeve, and other houses are stressing the "jelly bag" type, a variation of the sleeve used by Ardanne for that highly successful black chiffon gown with the rhinestone cuffs which you should remember from the fall collections.

In the matter of accessories you cannot get off as easily as in former years. Different degrees of formality appear in everything, from gloves to handbags, and the old sports, town and evening classifications are no longer enough.

Among the most charming hats are those formal affairs that are cut high to reveal a bare forehead. This, a very trying fashion, is relieved by the vogue for little face veils, fetching affairs that stand out over the nose. Some of the veils have a cape effect in the back, and are allowed to fall almost to the shoulders.

Tricorne and bicorne are also popular, especially for the older woman, and the black-and-white combination is considered very important by the Paris milliners. One droll little hat of black felt is cut in beret lines and has a band of flat white grosgrain ribbon framing the face. This is carried about the hat and ties in a bow exactly at the nape of the neck.

Two-Toned Tweeds Favored.

Differences of opinion in Paris do not extend to costumes for traveling, it appears. For these there is but one dictum, says a Paris fashion correspondent. At least 80 per cent of the proper costumes for getting about the world smartly are of tweed or fancy Jersey. And a lot of hand-knitted things may also be admitted to this category. The latter are mostly in the form of pullovers which repeat in their original patterns, the colors of the tweed skirt and coat.

Knitted caps or hats may also be worn white on the train or boat—and if one's destination is Switzerland they may continue to be worn for sports. Some long, hand-knitted mittens or gloves and high socks are then added. The scarf goes without saying—and all should match.

For the traveling costume, first choice is a tweed ensemble consisting of a three-quarter-length coat and rather short skirt. Three inches below the knee seems to be a popular length and the skirt must have plenty of fullness, but no bulkiness. The circular skirt with a hip yoke is particularly good style and lends itself admirably to the latest kind of tweed—nubby as to surface and quite thick, though as light to the touch as elderdown.

These latest tweeds favor two shades, one neutral for the background and one in a bright, often pastel, tone. All through the two-color patterns are sprinkled black and white flecks. Never too black and never too white, however, if your tweed is of the right variety.

Diagonals are very good and one of the smartest costumes we have seen at the Gare St. Lazare lately was being taken by its wearer aboard the Bremen. It was a brown diagonal tweed of the new shade for advance spring called mauve-brown—a deep brown with an undertone of mauve in it. The coat was full length and had a back yoke which did not reach to the center back, but made right angles with two incrustated vertical bands that ran all the way to the bottom hem of the coat, giving the short figure of its wearer a wonderful back line. At the bottom these incrustated bands widened about half an inch so that a slight flare was gained—most becoming to the average imperfect figure.

Coat Lining Matches Blouse.

A narrow suede belt was worn an inch below the top of the skirt band, and a satin blouse, several shades lighter than the tweed, but in the same tonality, had a turnover collar and brown bow tie. The lining of the coat was of the same shade as the blouse and it was hemstitched in lines about two inches apart, the full length of the coat. Brown lizard shoes and handbag of generous proportions formed perfect complements to this costume. A huge upstanding collar of natural lynx harmonized beautifully with the whole costume.

The Maison Hermes shows some pullovers which have had great success and have influenced the designs of a whole army of knitted garments this season. The best one is knitted to order, to match one's tweed, the main part of the sweater taking the darker tone in the material and a deep V yoke back and front taking the lighter tone. A two-inch band nearest the neck is in white or a pale beige shade. The normal waistline is slightly marked in the knitting of this model, and is further pointed out by a knitted-in belt of the lighter tone in the tweed, with a knitted buckle motif in the center front.

For the woman who wants complete comfort in traveling and no pinching in of the waistline by skirt band or belt, there is the smart one-piece tricor or feather-weight tweed frock, cut on semi-fitted lines. It may also be made of jersey tweed, that lovely new fabric, which has an open, lacy mesh and comes in two-color and three-color combinations in each pattern. There is usually a harmonizing tweed for coats.

FASHION FAVORS THE CAPE

Every smart frock this season carries a little cape—somehow, somewhere. It may be the most formal cape-collared extending to the waist at back, as in the first model shown; or, the briefest, casual cape for a sleeve as in the second model. But, always, if your frock is smart this season—it flaunts a cape in one form or another. Capes adorn morning, afternoon and evening fashions.

The cape theme is usually accompanied with a slightly dipping hemline, falling in low flares, if worn for formal afternoon occasions as shown in the sketches above. Chiffon is a favored fabric.

Second Model: Pictorial Printed Pattern No. 5156. Sizes 12 to 20, 50 cents.

Unique House of Paper

The "House of Paper" is located on Pigeon hill, in Rockport, Mass. Over 15,000 newspapers have been used to build it. Wood has been used for the framing, floor, ceiling, door jambs and eaves. Walls are of newspaper, 215 sheets in thickness, well varnished. The furniture, also, has been fashioned out of paper. The writing desk is of rolled newspapers, giving accounts of Lindbergh's flight to Paris.

Biblical Pictures His Forte

Hofmann, who painted the famous "Christ in the Temple," was a German, born at Darmstadt in 1824. He died in 1902. His pictures owe their popularity to his illustrative talent and ideal conceptions of Biblical events.

Leaves Too "Noisy"

Leaves in a garden bower in a movie set at Hollywood had to be sprayed with glycerine, to keep them from interrupting a singer. It was found that the leaves vibrated in the orchestral accompaniment, so that the rustle was apparent in the delicate microphone. The glycerine was used to soften this counter-vibration.

Sea Devil's "Fishing Tackle"

The fish known as the sea devil has a long tentacle floating from its head, like a fishing line ending in a piece of bait, and when this attracts curious small fish, snap go the sea devil's jaws.

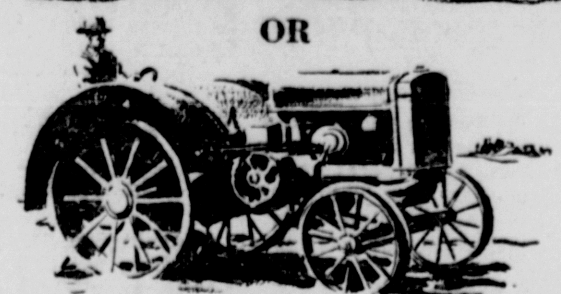

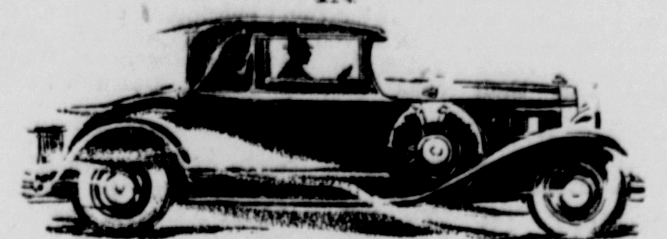

Windfall for Railroad

Recent gales blew a thousand tons of seashore sand over railway tracks near Birkdale, England, and the company loaded it up and sold it in Yorkshire and Derbyshire. Usually local authorities charge the railway $5 a ton for sand taken from the beaches.

Champion Library System

The Los Angeles county (California) free library claims to have the most extended library system. It serves a population estimated at 488,000, sending books and other library material to 158 active branch libraries, several of which are nearly one hundred miles away.

Don't Stub Your Toe!

One dark night—so the story goes—a certain monarch placed a large boulder in the middle of the road. Thousands of his people, thereafter, severely stubbed their toes or troubled to walk around. At length, one lusty youth—wiser than the rest—seized the stone and heaved it from his path. And where it had rested, he found a bag of gold.

Are you stubbing your toe? Are you overlooking any bags of gold? How about the advertising in this paper? Do you read it—consistently? It is a bag of gold to many of our readers.

In our columns you will find the advertisements of alert, progressive merchants and manufacturers who seek to tell you something they think you ought to know. This advertising is news about the very things that interest you most—articles that will save you money, lessen your work, or add materially to your comfort and well-being.

Thrifty men and women read advertising. To them it is a plain, every-day business proposition—a duty they owe themselves and their purses. It tells them where they can buy exactly what they want at a price they can afford to pay.

Advertising pays them. They make it pay.

It will pay you too. Read it

GANGSTERS WITH SHOTGUNS HIDDEN IN GOLF BAGS

CARRY OUT MISSION OF VENGEANCE IN CHICAGO, ENDING IN A "RIDE"

UNIDENTIFIED VICTIM ENCOUNTERED SHOT DOWN IN DARK ALLEY

Chicago, May 29.—(U.P.)—Gangsters, with shotguns concealed in golf bags, carried out a mission of vengeance that ended early today in a "ride" for their unidentified victim, whom they encountered and shot in a dark north side alley.

One of the gunmen was captured by two night watchmen who seized him from the running board of the "ride" car as it started to speed away. The gangster was identified as Sam Hunt, 27, who previously had been arrested in company with members of the Capone liquor syndicate.

Police looked to the indictment yesterday of Ralph Capone, brother of "Scarface Al," on liquor conspiracy charges for a possible motive for the shooting, the victim of which might have been a government informer.

They likewise gave heed in their search for clues to the theory that investigations here in connection with the recovery of more than $1,000,000 worth of stolen jewelry in New York may have prompted the probable murder.

Search was on for 350 Chicagoans, many of them known hoodlums, who have been named in federal grand jury indictments charging conspiracy to violate the prohibition laws.

Several leaders in the beer and alcohol business were reported hiding out to escape service of warrants for their arrest. Among those who were unaccounted for was Ralph Capone, brother of the notorious "Scarface Al."

Federal agents said the indictments involved the greatest number of persons ever accused at one time of liquor law violations. They predicted every one of the suspects would be rounded up in a few weeks.

Ralph Capone and several other gangsters were indicted under the provisions of the Jones "five and ten" law, and it was believed they might evade arrest on the serious charges. Capone was charged with selling liquor at the Montmartre and the Cotton clubs, two Capone strongholds in Cicero, which federal agents recently raided.

Three of Capone's right hand men—Percy Haller, Harry McRae and Art Goldie—also were indicted in connection with the operation of the two night clubs.

Relief Workers Battle Rising Waters in South

CARRY FOOD AND CLOTHING TO OVER
4,000 PERSONSLATTER DRIVEN FROM THEIR HOMES BY FLOODS IN THE
LOUISIANA LOWLANDSSWOLLEN RIVERS CONTINUE TO
OVERFLOW AROUND VILLAGES
AND FARM HOMES

Shreveport, La., May 29.—(U.P.)—Relief workers battled rising waters today to carry food and clothing to more than 4,000 persons who have been driven from their homes by floods in Louisiana lowlands.

Swollen rivers continued to overflow around villages and farm homes in many sections of the state. Five towns were reported under water and at least one death was known to have been caused.

Refugees were suffering from exposure and lack of food in several districts, it was said. They were huddled together on hilltops and in Red Cross emergency camps after being driven from their homes without even time to take their personal belongings.

Communication lines into the flood swept areas were washed away, and highways were inundated. Relief work progressed slowly because of these handicaps and it was feared serious suffering would be caused to many of the homeless.

The villages of West Dale, East Point, Chritchton, Armistead and Abington were under water. Floods also threatened Alexandria and Matchitoches where volunteers worked desperately to strengthen the levees.

After a survey of the stricken districts, State Representative James Aswell said conditions were comparable to the disaster of 1927.

The only known death was that of William Lafont, Grant Parish, who was drowned in the Red river.

Shreveport, La., May 29.—Loss of life due to devastating flood waters of the Red river, that have driven 6,000 persons from their homes, increased today as Red Cross workers checked inundated areas.

They reported six lives lost: William Lafont, Grant Parish, an unidentified white man; two children at Haynesville, La.; two negroes near Minden, La.

Five towns were under water and conditions along the lower reaches of the river became critical as the overflow moved on.

State Supreme Court
Affirms Conviction of
Alderman Sweeney

St. Paul, May 29.—(U.P.)—Alderman E. J. Sweeney of Minneapolis was unsuccessful today in his attempt to escape a prison sentence after conviction of bribery charges.

The state supreme court affirmed his conviction and sentence of not more than ten years in the state penitentiary at Stillwater and a fine of $2,500. Sweeney was arrested last night and taken to the Minneapolis jail.

Affirmation of Sweeney's conviction brought a close to the trials of four Minneapolis aldermen for bribe-taking. Two aldermen indicted by the grand jury after a six months investigation have not been convicted.

The case of Alderman Russell Sheffield has never been brought up for trial and Alderman W. H. Rendell, tried twice on graft charges, drew a "hung" jury each time.

Sweeney was convicted on the evidence of his friend and fellow third ward alderman, Fred Maurer. Maurer previously had been sent to Stillwater on bribe-taking charges.

In the graft cleanup Alderman Frank E. Giebelhain pleaded guilty and John P. Ekberg, tenth ward councilman, was sent to prison after his appeal was denied by the state supreme court last November.

The supreme court held that Maurer's testimony was competent to convict Sweeney since Maurer had not been Sweeney's accomplice.

NEW SPANISH WAR
VETERANS PENSION
BILL PREPARED

Washington, May 29.—(U.P.)—A new Spanish-American war veterans pension bill which would be satisfactory to President Hoover has been prepared for introduction in the house, Representative Knutson (Rep., St. Cloud, Minn.), chairman of the house pensions committee, announced today after conferring with Mr. Hoover.

Knutson said he had discussed the bill with the president and Mr. Hoover indicated he would sign the new measure if congress passes it.

The president vetoed the Spanish-American war veterans pension bill yesterday on the general ground that it granted unwarranted pensions.

Knutson said he had made changes in the measure to meet these objections.

SOLDIER STRUCK
BY MOTORCYCLE
DIES OF INJURIES

Fort Snelling, Minn., May 29.—(U.P.)—Struck by a speeding motorcycle which was traveling on the wrong side of the street, according to witnesses, Private H. E. Harlow, 35, of the third infantry service company, died from injuries today.

Private D. E. Olmstead, who was returning to the fort with Harlow after they had spent the evening in Minneapolis, said he believed the cyclist was a civilian. Harlow was taken to the fort hospital where he died shortly after midnight from a fractured skull.

HAMPERED BY HIS RHEU-
MATISMOLD ASSOCIATES WHO FOUGHT
WIT HIM 66 YEARS AGO ARE
ENFEEBLED

Fairmont, W. Va., May 29.—(U.P.)—Though slightly hampered by rheumatism, John L. Skinner, 103, the oldest living civil war veteran, got out his cane today and walked a mile to town to reminisce with "the boys."

"The boys" were Skinner's cronies, comrades in blue who fought with him 66 years ago. Unlike the centenarian, most of them were enfeebled.

Skinner walked erect and his blue eyes were bright. Occasionally he winced as a rheumatism pain shot through his limbs.

Asked on the eve of Memorial Day what he thinks of the present day gestures toward peace, Skinner said he still believes there is "strength in the Union."

"But," he declared, "unless turmoil and political wrangling cease, even I may live to see another civil war."

Skinner who claims to have seen the first box of matches ever brought to America, expressed himself in favor of a world court or "a union," he said, "whereby brotherhood might be developed."

PATRON SAINT OF SONS
OF WILD JACKASSES
GETS APPEAL FOR AID

White Bear Lake, Minn., May 29.—(U.P.)—Senator George E. Moses was named patron saint of the Sons of Wild Jackasses when the order was founded last winter—but not, members said today, because they thought he was a philanthropist.

Mrs. Paul A. Schurr of Ulm, Germany, thinks differently. She addressed a letter to Senator Moses today in care of the "Sohne der Wilden Esel." She said that she was the mother of five young children and that her husband was sick.

"Most of the time we have hardly enough to eat. Most honorable Mr. Senator if you are not in a position to help me will you please bring my appeal up before the club of the Sons of Wild Jackasses? Perhaps there is one among them who would help a poor mother," the letter said.

CLOSELY GUARDED
'RADICAL IN DESIGN'

Los Angeles, May 29.—(U.P.)—Closely guarded by officials, a mystery plane which is said to be "radical in design," is under construction at the Lockheed aircraft factory in Burbank for Captain Frank Hawks, noted transcontinental flier.

For what purpose Hawks intends to use the plane could not be learned, although it was said the ship will be for a daring long distance flight late this summer.

Hawks has been in New York since his recent trans-continental glider flight, but is expected to come here soon to inspect preliminary work on the plane.

New York, May 29.—(U.P.)—"United we collect; divided we get gyped," is the motto of the United Furnished Room association, which has been organized to protect landlords and boarding-house proprietors from fly-by-night roomers.

The group received a charter yesterday to "disseminate information as to credit, and otherwise maintaining a service for locating and tracing individuals who may leave furnished room houses without paying their rent and owing rent in arrears."

Indian Business Disorganized, Petition
That Immediate Dominion Be Established22 COMMERCIAL ORGANIZATIONS
MAKE THE PLEANO HOPE FOR COLLAPSE OF
MOVEMENT INAUGURATED
BY MAHATMA GANDHI"2 COURSES OPEN TO BRITISH,
RULE BY SHEER FORCE OR
TO CONCILIATE"By WEBB MILLER
(United Press Staff Correspondent)

Bombay, May 29.—The disorganization of Indian business resulting from the independence campaign impelled the Federation of Indian Chambers of Commerce and Industry today to solicit Vice-Lord Irwin for a promise of immediate dominion status.

Only by granting dominion status, the federation of 22 important commercial organizations said, can peace be restored. There is no hope, it said, for collapse of the movement inaugurated more than two months ago by Mahatma Gandhi.

"Two courses are open," read the letter to Lord Irwin. "They are either to rule by sheer force, or to conciliate."

Reports of disorders were limited to Rangoon, Burma, where three days of communal rioting have brought the list of dead to at least 100, with another 900 injured.

The Rangoon rioting resulted from attempts to break a strike of dock workers there. Mulemen and Indian workers were imported to replace Burmese strikers who sought higher wages, and the latter engaged in fights with strike breakers.

The national congress committee here adopted a new line of attack when it dispatched 27 volunteers to Sholapur to defy the martial law regulations of that city, by hoisting a congress flag. Sholapur was placed under martial law after rioting in the city forced evacuation of all European women and children.

In addition, the congress proposed to renew the raids on the Wadala salt works and extend its defiance of other British laws, against which no opposition has been shown heretofore.

The raids on the Dharasana salt works, which have resulted in the arrest of three leaders of the campaign—Mahatma Gandhi, Abbas Tyabji and Mrs. Sarojini Naidu—also will be renewed.

The letter from the Federation of Indian Chambers of Commerce and Industry included a plea to invite Mahatma Gandhi to the round table conference in London next fall.

That letter was backed up by representations from H. A. Laljee, president of the Indian Merchants Chamber, to Sir Frederick Sykes, governor of Bombay, asking the release of Gandhi. Gandhi should be consulted before the government's plans were decided upon, Laljee said.

Calcutta, India, May 29.—Heavily armed police were ordered to the village of Nawabganj, near Dacca, today to put down a new outbreak of rioting in which several Europeans were injured.

A mob of 300 independence demonstrators attacked W. Cotton, superintendent of police at Dacca, and a detachment of police. An undetermined number of natives were injured.

Cotton's party had gone to Nawabganj to arrest some Moslems who started the recent disorders in the Dacca district, where 14 persons were killed. A mob met them on the road and separated Cotton from his party.

The rioters seized his revolver and pushed him in a ditch, beating him severely. J. W. Atkins, managing agent for the Dacca Electric Company, fired his revolver at the crowd, wounding one. The injured were taken to a hospital.

Belle Fourche, S. D., May 29.—(U.P.)—A physician, a nurse and the pilot of an airplane that was making a race against death, were reported today to have met death themselves when the plane crashed near the little prairie town of Piniele, Mont.

Dr. A. S. Sherrill received an emergency call last night from a patient at Piniele, 80 miles from here, and immediately chartered a plane from the Belle Fourche Air Lines to make the trip, for Piniele is not on a railroad and highways were impassable.

With Robert Crawford at the controls and accompanied by a Miss Lindstrom, a nurse whom he hastily had engaged, the doctor took off in the dark for the Montana village.

Several hours later reports reached here at the air lines offices told of sudden disaster overtaking the plane when it was caught in a gale of wind and sent crashing to earth. The pilot and his passengers were understood to have been instantly killed.

GRAF ZEPPELIN
HEADING TOWARDS
HAVANA, CUBAFLYING ALONG EASTERN COAST
OF SOUTH AMERICA
TODAYHOPES TO ARRIVE AT CUBAN
CAPITAL AT DAWN
TOMORROW

Pernambuco, Brazil, May 29.—(U.P.)—The Graf Zeppelin, having crossed the equator for the second time, was heading up the eastern coast of South America today towards Havana and Lakehurst, N. J.

More than half of its 3,000-mile flight from Pernambuco to Havana lay behind the big German dirigible today, placing its arrival at the Cuban capital approximately at dawn tomorrow.

The radio station at Giquia field, whence the dirigible departed at 11:13 A. M. yesterday (8:13 A. M. CST.) received a message from the Zeppelin last night giving its position at 11:35 P. M. (8:35 P. M. CST.) as 80 miles north of the equator, approximately 1,200 miles from here. The ship at that time was flying well.

Rainy weather delayed departure five hours yesterday morning. The ship rose slowly and circled Giquia several times. Large crowds waved a farewell to the ship, which had been here a week except for a week-end trip to Rio de Janeiro.

Members of Pernambuco's German colony massed in the rain and sang the German national anthem in booming voices as the ropes were cast off.

Shortly before Dr. Eckener stepped aboard he told friends and newspaper men he expected to return, probably next September.

Dr. Eckener telegraphed President Washington Luis in Rio de Janeiro, thanking him for the welcome the Brazilian people had extended.

"I hope this first voyage of observation will be followed by many regular ones, assisting in tightening the bonds of friendship and the commercial relations between Brazil and central Europe," the telegram said.

New York, May 29.—The Graf Zeppelin was approximately 500 miles north and slightly east of Selem (Para) on the northern coast of Brazil at 3 A. M. CST., the Mackay Radio Company announced today. A message from the dirigible, which is en route from Pernambuco to Havana, said its position was 5.35 north, 46 west. The position was about 500 miles from Trinidad Island in the West Indies.

THREE CARS PILE

KILLING WOMAN

St. Paul, May 29.—(U.P.)—Mrs. J. H. Moore was killed last night when three cars piled up at a curve in South Roberts street. Two other persons were injured in the collision. Vernant Annerl and Frank Schmidt, drivers of the other cars, were held in Ramsey county jail for questioning today by the coroner.

CHILDREN FROM

St. Paul, May 29.—(U.P.)—Children from the best families are being sent to jail every day because their parents "pass the buck," Rev. D. E. Fenn, former chaplain at the Colorado state penitentiary, told the eighth district convention of the Minnesota Congress of Parents and Teachers last night.

Responsibility for increasing juvenile delinquency rests with the home, the church and the school, he said.

Mrs. G. A. Goggin, Stillwater, was reelected president of the district organization.

DAY RACES ON INDIAN-
APOLIS SPEEDWAYENTRY LIST COMPLETED YES-TERDAY, AS 8 CARS QUALI-FIED FOR RACE

Indianapolis, Ind., May 29.—(U.P.)—Thirty-eight drivers today planned final trial runs over the Indianapolis speedway to put their cars in top condition for the annual 500 miles Memorial Day race tomorrow.

The entry list was completed yesterday when eight cars qualified for the race by maintaining an average speed of 85 miles an hour for 10 miles. Tomorrow's race is the first event on the Indianapolis course in which more than 33 cars have been allowed to compete.

Predictions of a record crowd were made by race officials after the Memorial Day weather was forecast as "cloudy but no rains." The advance ticket sale indicates an attendance of 16,000, it was said.

The drivers who qualified yesterday and their speeds were: Deacon Litz, Duesenberg, 105.755 miles an hour; Babe Stapp, Duesenberg, 104.950; Zeke Meyer, Miller, 95.357; William Denver, Nardi Special, 90.65; Dave Evans, Jones and Nally, 87.342; Rolan Free, Slade Special near Stock Chrysler, 83.639; Harry Butcher, near Stock Buick, 87.903, and Dick Decker, Hoosier Pete, 92.293.

COLORED COP GETS A RIDE WITH LINDY
IN HIS AUTOMOBILE

Paterson, N. J., May 29.—(U.P.)—Patrolman Fred Thompson, only negro on the police force, decided he didn't want to walk to headquarters in the rain and hailed an approaching automobile.

After he climbed in he thought the driver's face seemed rather familiar. "Oh, you're Col. Lindbergh," he gasped.

The driver merely smiled. Thompson, awed, could think of nothing better to say than "Your father-in-law is making quite a race for the senate."

When he alighted, Thompson volunteered: "I'm very glad to know you." "I'm very glad to know you, too," Lindbergh replied, and drove on.

CHARGED WITH BANK ROBBERY

Elk Point, S. D., May 29.—(U.P.)—John W. Elliott, 32, charged with robbery of the First National Bank here Monday, was held today for questioning after arrest at Sioux City last night.

Elliott was identified, according to Sheriff N. G. Slocum of Union county, by bank officials and customers, and an automobile which answered descriptions of the bandit's machine was seized when he was arrested at his father's home.

Early reports that Elliott had been seized by a mob of Elk Point citizens and returned to the sheriff unharmed were characterized by the sheriff as "bunk."

St. Paul, May 29.—(U.P.)—Contracts for construction work on the new national guard camp at Little Falls were awarded today to the amount of $148,553.16.

Additional contracts to be awarded soon will raise the total to $319,000. Bids for approaches to the camp awarded previously amounted to $139,000.

The Minnesota Electric Co., Little Falls, received an award for electric fixtures to be supplied at a cost of $498. The Hittgen-Karst Co., Fergus Falls, received a contract for $3,108 for electric lines. The Lewis Johnson Co., Aitkin, was awarded a general construction contract of $10,112.

DEMOCRATS IN
HEATED ARGUMENT
OVER PROVISIONCONGRESSIONAL CONFEREES
MAKE SECTION ABOUT SAME
AS PRESENT LAWABANDON ALL REFORM PRO-
POSALS OF THE SENATE
COALITIONISTS

Washington, May 29.—(U.P.)—President Hoover's plan to maintain his flexible tariff revision power was adopted today by the congressional tariff conferees, and brought a heated democratic attack immediately upon the floor of the senate.

Acting under the loophole which Vice-President Curtis provided in his surprise ruling Tuesday, the congressional conferees again changed the flexible provision making it about the same as the present law and abandoning all the reform proposals of the senate coalitionists.

Angered at this action, the democrats, led by Senator Pat Harrison, democrat, Mississippi, walked to the floor of the senate and made charges that Mr. Hoover was behind the strange tariff activities of the last few days.

Harrison charged that the president's secretary, Walter Newton, was present at one time in the conference room with Chairman Smoot and Hawley of the senate and house conferees; that the Saturday night dash of four republican senators from the president's mountain camp back to Washington was inspired by the presidential plan to again change the flexible provision and that the provision itself "gives the president that power he has been craving, to pluck plums of campaign contributions and corral votes just before elections."

Harrison asserted Vice-President Curtis was acting for Mr. Hoover and against his own senatorial leaders in ruling that the flexible compromise was invalid, thereby opening the way for adoption of the new plan which preserves the presidential authority.

"This latest change has demolished all the work of the senate," said Harrison. "We now return to existing law. The president has finally won out. The trip of the four horsemen senators of the Rapidan was not in vain."

Washington, May 29.—Most of the proposed tariff commission reforms were abandoned today by house and senate conferees, who reached an agreement upon the disputed flexible provision of the pending Smoot-Hawley tariff bill.

In their agreement, the conferees returned basically to the existing law which permits the tariff commission to adjust rates upward or downward by 50 per cent with presidential approval.

The new arrangement is said to be even more acceptable to President Hoover than the old compromise reform proposal nipped by Vice President Curtis in a senate ruling Tuesday.

The latest draft of the provision is understood to have been sent to the White House late last night when it received private presidential endorsement.

Elated at the swift agreement, Chairman Smoot of the senate conferees announced he would return his battered bill to the senate floor later in the day to renew the drive for an enactment.

Thus the democrats lose by the flurry which they started Tuesday when Senator Barkley, democrat, of Kentucky, lodged a point of order that the conferees exceeded their authority in writing the flexible compromise. They sought to restrict the power of the president and the tariff commission, but the latest agreement gives both the same power as in existing law.

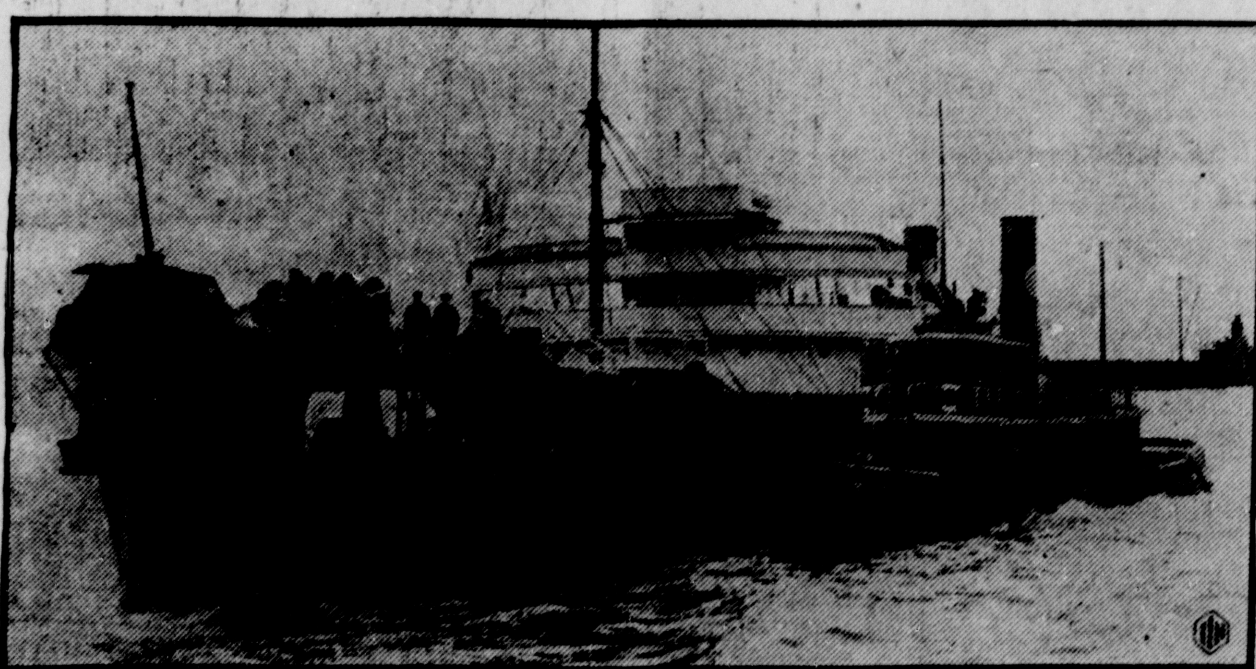

Under the original compromise, the tariff commission would fix a rate adjustment and send their recommendation to the White House. The president would be required to affirm or veto it within 60 days and if he took no action within 70 days the recommendation of the commission became law.

Now the time limit would be eliminated. The rate recommendation of the tariff commission may be subjected to a pocket veto by the president if he chooses. He may endorse the commission rate or reject it, or file it and forget about it.

Half of Water Power in
State Held by Corporations

Staples, Minn., May 29.—(U.P.)—Over half the water power in the state has fallen into the hands of public service corporations without the state receiving the slightest return, Ray P. Chase, candidate for republican nomination for governor, said last night. A new state agency for the control of water power and the protection of natural resources is needed, he said.

dropped anchor. The Scottish Maiden, after rendering assistance, proceeded to Newport News, Va., for repairs. (International Newsweek)

New Tones Shown for Spring Wear

Very Few Crude Colors to Be Used, Paris Correspondent Says.

The powers that direct fashion's trends have decreed the death of the sunburn vogue, declares a Paris fashion correspondent in the New York Times. The 1930 "elegante" will be herself. The dark damsel will wear a tan, of course, but the fair girl will protect her pearly complexion even if she has to take to veils and sunbonnets as her 1830 predecessors did. It is to be a time of much more individuality among women than when all the beaches were crowded with brunettes.

As fashionable colors are naturally designed to set off fashionable complexions, this change of skin vitality affects the 1930 sartorial color chart.

Few, if any, crude colors will be used this year. Rather, colors will often be toned with their own complementaries; for example, blue and orange will be mixed to produce turquoise and peacock tones—with a much more lively effect than the grayed pastels.

Blue always accompanies essentially feminine fashion epochs—as great painters have chosen it for the mantle of the madonna as a symbol of purity and spirituality—and it is coming back strongly into the 1930 mode. Navy blue will be one of the leading colors for evening as well as for morning and afternoon costumes. Then there are violet blues, and grayed-violet blues, and green blues; lapis-lazuli, peacock, turquoise and robin's egg.

As always happens when blue leads, a great variety of gray tones will follow, but there will be no neutrals. Grays will be "fair but false," being colored with livelier tones. Smoke gray and amethyst gray, toned with violet, will be popular for all times of day, as will sulphur gray, toned with yellow; grape gray, shaded with green; smoky topaz, clouded with orange; stone gray, chilled with blue, and agate gray, warmed with red. The perennial beiges will be grayed down to softer tones.

Two new gamuts of browns will be good, one a warm golden brown, which pales down to yellow beige, for blonds; the other a negre running into gray beige for the olive-skinned brunettes. There will be several rich reds—the red of the Jacquemont rose, which in its lighter tints gives lovely pale pinks; Chinese red and an orange red slightly different from the tomato red so smart last summer.

Spring, of course, always fosters new greens. The bluish water greens and peacock hues give promise of popularity; in their darker tones they have the glint of a raven's wing. The green of oak leaves modulated with bronze will tint fashionable ensembles. Its lighter tones, which approach the color of spring water, are particularly flattering to blonds.

Yellows will abound on the beaches. They, too, will be different from the bright yellows of last year.

Two-color costumes, it is predicted, will be smarter than those of a single tone, especially black and white, pink and black, ecru, sand or beige and black.

Net, Crepe,orgette Used in Combination

Fabric alliances many times are the cachet of chic in a frock. The new combination is net with crepe ororgette. The net is used not only for billowy lines, but in tailored and incrustated bandings, presenting an entirely new treatment. The effect is tailored, yet miraculously the dress is distinctly of the afternoon type.

The crepe afternoon dress with the flaring from the elbow sleeves often has incrustated bands of the net set in the sleeves and used as a finish for the neckline.

A similar employment of net is seen in evening gowns of crepe ororgette. The net forming godets in which the tailored suggestion is pronounced.

Reading the Bible in the public schools of New York City is not only permissible under the City Charter but does not violate any provision of the New York State Constitution or that of the United States, the answer of Corporation Counsel Arthur J. W. Hilly to the taxpayer's suit brought by Joseph Lewis, president of the Free Thinkers' Society of New York, to restrain the Board of Education from allowing the Bible to be taught in the public schools. Argument on the motion will be held in New York City June 9, when it is claimed that Clarence Darrow will argue the case for the Free Thinkers. Arthur Garfield Hays, attorney for the society, and Major Joseph Wheless, former judge-advocate of the U. S. Army, with Mr. Darrow, will be arrayed against Counsel Hilly and the Walker administration. (International Newsreel)

Transparent Gem

Hiddenite is a green, transparent variety of spodumene used as a gem stone. A well-marked prismatic cleavage renders the mineral rather difficult to cut. Its color passes from an emerald green to a greenish yellow and is often unevenly distributed through the stone, which shows much fire when properly cut. Hiddenite was originally found as loose crystals in the soil, but was afterward worked in a vein stone where it occurred in association with quartz, garnet and other minerals.

Remedy for Anemia

Powdered seal's liver was one of the commodities on view at the thirty-fifth annual chemists exhibition, at London. Seals, it appears, live a blameless and comfortable life in the icy waters of the North Atlantic and Arctic oceans. They do not know the meaning of "liver" and that organ remains in such excellent condition that it is made into an extract for the treatment of anemia and heart troubles.

MANY FINE WAYS TO EAT ALL-BRAN

All Relieve Constipation and Add Food Iron

There are literally scores of ways that Kellogg's ALL-BRAN can be eaten and enjoyed. Whatever way you eat it, ALL-BRAN is positively guaranteed to relieve both temporary and recurring constipation or your money will be refunded!

Many eat Kellogg's ALL-BRAN as a cereal. It is delicious with milk or cream. Another way is to use it in soups and salads. The practice of soaking it in fruit juice has grown very popular. Its addition to all cooked food is an appetizing and healthful one.

When you eat Kellogg's ALL-BRAN regularly, you have the satisfaction of knowing that you are enjoying one of the most healthful habits on earth. It not only relieves constipation, but adds iron to the blood. In combination with milk or fruit juices, it brings important vitamins to the diet.

Every one should eat it to supply the bulk needed to balance the soft foods eaten today. Include ALL-BRAN in all reducing diets. It helps prevent constipation and anemia.

Order a package of Kellogg's ALL-BRAN. Your grocer has it. Made by Kellogg in Battle Creek.

Be sure to get catalogues from reliable seed dealers, and do not fail to provide for flowers as well as food crops.

Sweet potato seed should be treated before bedding, to prevent black rot infection. If the hotbed soil is free from the black rot organism, healthy plants will be produced.

With proper attention, alfalfa will furnish grazing for hogs during three or four seasons before it becomes necessary to reseed. It must not be grazed so closely that the stand is injured.

New fertilizers contain less bulk than the older kinds. A ton of the concentrated fertilizer may contain between two and four times as much plant food as the fertilizer mixtures formerly used.

PURITAN MALT

—IT'S DIFFERENT

Puritan quality simply cannot vary.

While it is in the making, mechanical eyes known as "Controlled Temperature Process" constantly watch the heat—assure exact uniformity in every single can. No variation or unevenness can exist.

Made of the finest select barley and hops—and offering you 10% greater quantity than most other brands. Every good dealer sells Puritan.

Playing Safe

City Sportsman—Dear me, but the birds seem strong on the wing this year. I've shot at a dozen and missed them all.

Guide—You're mistaken, sir. You've shot at the same bird a dozen times. It's a-follerin' you about for safety.

Mercenary

"You never talk scandal?" "Never," answered Miss Cayenne. "If you have any scandal on your mind it is foolish to publish it free. Instead of writing a book,"—Washington Star.

County Surveyor—Louis Knudsen, Clerk of District Court—W. A. M. Johnstone.

Court Commissioner—A. G. Trom-mald.

County Coroner—D. E. Whitney.

The following names will appear on the primary ballot for Crow Wing county offices, two being nominated from each office to compete at the general election:

Register of Deeds—Geo. E. Ericson, Jr., Earle W. Jenkins, Carney O. Peterson, all of Brainerd.

Sheriff—Oscar A. Gravhahl, Pequot; Frank E. Little, Charles W. Oberg, Fred J. Reid, Brainerd; Frank A. Miller, Oak Lawn; Glenn R. Slocum, Sibley.

County Superintendent of Schools—Mrs. Ethel T. Bane, Harold T. Molstad, M. Adeline Smiley, Hope Thabes, Brainerd; Fred G. Mayberry, Iron-ton; Mary McKinley Curo, Jenkins.

County Commissioner 2nd District—A. Frank Anderson, Homer J. Dickerson, Emily; John W. Curo, Jenkins; E. J. Houge, Ideal; Emil Johnson, Irondale; Fred F. Johnson, Allen.

County Commissioner 4th District—Verner F. Anderson, Edward Crust, P. J. Wolvert, M. E. DeRosier, Frank J. Lowey, Brainerd.

In addition the state ticket will be voted on and the office of judge for the 15th Judicial District. Candidates for judge are: Frank E. Ebner, Michael E. Ryan, Brainerd and Alfred L. Thwing, Grand Rapids.

MAAG TO SPEAK AT RANGE TOMORROW

H. E. Maag, a Minneapolis attorney and well known Legion man, will deliver the Memorial Day address at Crosby tomorrow.

The Crosby-Ironton observance will include parades in Ironton and Crosby business streets.

CARD OF THANKS

The teachers and students of Whittier school and the members of the Whittier P. T. A. wish to convey their sincerest thanks for the support rendered the school in winning the recent Majestic Radio Contest, instituted and sponsored by the Russell Creamery Co. The radio has already become a source of entertainment and education for the students.

HASKING, 80, WILL BE 'BABY' IN PARADE

Uhrichsville, O., May 29.—(UP)—A young fellow named Isaac Hasking, who went to war in '61 when he was so small they had to shorten the barrel of his musket, will march in the Memorial day parade here tomorrow as the "baby" of the G. A. R.

Hasking, who is only 80 years of age—"and chippier as ever" he will explain—is said to be one of the youngest veterans of the civil war.

He enlisted as a drummer boy, but when Stonewall Jackson's "foot cavalry" got the union armies on the run in the Shenandoah valley he was forced to abandon his drum and take up a musket.

Little Isaac was so short his comrades got a hack saw and cut 12 inches off the end of the gun.

He was honorably discharged at the age of 16.

SIX CYLINDER SENTENCES

By DR. JOHN W. HOLLAND

Lend a needy man a hand. It will help him more than handing him money.

Here's to the other fellow—may we be as good as we want him to be.

If all who act from vanity grow peacock feathers we should have a fuzzy world.

Cease worrying about two things: those that you can help and those that you can't.

Our dreams are the deathless part of us.

Direction is more essential than speed.

BRAINERD 25 YEARS AGO

From the Daily Dispatch

May 29, 1905

It is expected with good luck that the new creamery will be started up a week from today. The machinery arrived today and Ben Armstrong, who will have charge of the setting of it up is busy getting things in shape.

He expected to have everything ready by next Monday.

H. F. Michael received the sad intelligence this morning of the death of his brother C. G. Michael at Ozark, Ark., who was murdered by a man with whom he had had some difficulty.

Without the slightest notice and while riding in a buggy, he was shot in the back of the neck with a shot gun and died almost instantly.

The bass season opened in Minnesota today. The waters are well stocked with the fish and from present indications bass fishing has never been better than it will be this year.

Decoration Day will be celebrated in Brainerd this year as formerly. The important features will be the honor paid to the soldier dead, for which an excellent program has been prepared.

The stores and public offices of the city will be closed. There will be a ball game in the morning at 10 o'clock at the ball park and in the afternoon there will be a shooting tournament by the Riverside Gun club at Woodland park. There are some 40 members in this club.

Mrs. G. D. LaBar left for Little Falls this afternoon where she will assist at a concert to be given this evening in the Congregational church.

The annual outing of the Elks will be held this year at Duluth at the time of the state convention. There will be a special train on June 7, which will return the same evening.

FARMER ACCUSED OF KILLING NEIGHBOR'S COW; DENIES CRIME

George Lawton, Dean Lake farmer, pleaded not guilty to the destruction of property as complained of by his neighbor Wm. Sangenberg in Brainerd municipal court this morning.

Sangenberg claims he caught Lawton in the act of starting to butcher one of his cows on his land night before last. He accuses Lawton of stabbing the cow. Another man with Lawton ran away before he could recognize him, Sangenberg said.

MAY ASK INDICTMENTS AGAINST 10 TO 25 PERSONS IN PROBE

St. Paul, May 29.—(U.P.)—All but completing its task of hearing how thousands of dollars were mulcted from northwest investors, the federal grand jury investigating the Ten Thousand Lakes Fur Farms corporation is expected to report Tuesday or Wednesday.

The jurors will recess at 3 p. m. today until Monday. They will almost have cleaned the slate of witnesses who told how they invested in the defunct corporation. M. F. Kinkead, assistant U. S. district attorney, said he would ask the jury to return indictments against between 10 and 25 persons.

*An investigation conducted by the Association of Life Insurance Medical Directors and the Actuarial Society of America revealed the fact that the death rate increases practically 1% for every pound of excess weight carried between the ages of 40 and 44 years. In other words, a man 40 pounds overweight at this age has only 60% of the expectancy of life of a man of normal weight. We do not represent that smoking Lucky Strike Cigarettes will bring modern figures or cause the reduction of flesh. We do declare that when tempted to do yourself too well, if you will "Reach for a Lucky instead," you will thus avoid over-indulgence in things that cause excess weight and, by avoiding over-indulgence, maintain a modern, graceful form.

Extreme care has been taken in the fashioning of these hats—they're not merely manufactured. You'll like the feel as well as the look of them! They have that "something" all men seek in headwear . . . it's hard to define, but easy to find in every SOLAR straw.

Braids and bodies of these straws are the pick of the world markets. Experts deftly shape them into hats well abreast of the style trend. This year the sweep of the brims is smarter and the crowns mount becomingly higher. Silk bands are in deep shades, either plain or striped.

Inside, as well as out, SOLAR stylists make strict demands. Sweat bands must be soft, yielding easily to the form of the head. Linings and details of finish must never swerve from a superior standard.

All this, because SOLAR straw wearers must know they are smartly correct!

"SHEIK'S WIFE"

BY WINIFRED VAN DUZER

CHAPTER XXXVII.

THERE was a bare little living room beyond the door, sparsely furnished with the flimsy odds and ends one finds in summer cottages rented by the season. The makeshiftness of the place struck Eve first of all, since quantities of cheap cushions, a soiled lamp shade and a mangy rug, all meant to impart an air of luxury, had hopelessly failed.

She stood in her dripping garments peering through the dim light and made out the rumpled little figure on the couch at the far side of the room when Puss raised a disheveled head.

"Wh—what do you want?" Eve giggled out of the sicker, letting it drop on the floor, tossed the tam-o-shanter on top of it, went over to the couch. She paused there looking down at the other girl, amazed and curiously distressed by the change in the little creature.

No fairy daintiness, no wondering childlikeness about her tonight. The once delicate face was swollen and spotted with weeping and, Eve soon saw, with what had come out of the half empty whiskey bottle on the table near by. Her hair hung in damp, untidy strings—even the curls had not been real!—and there were puffy rings under her eyes, lines etched about a sullen mouth. Puss was not the young thing she had pretended—easy enough to see that—she looked positively middle aged.

Stricken by shame as before an indignity, Eve turned her look away, all her resentment gone. Shameful, pathetic—and this was the woman who had filled Ken's thought, lured him into strange flights of imagination!

"I've been looking for Ken," she said gently. "He's out somewhere—out in this terrible storm—and I've been worried. I thought he might have stopped here."

"Well, he didn't," Puss said thickly, putting her head down and sending Eve a baleful glare. "But, Puss—you haven't seen him? Not at all today? This storm—I can't help being frightened."

Say, listen," Puss' voice was raucous, her soft wistfulness gone as if it never had been. "Listen. You don't have to come here to tell me there's a storm. I've got ears, haven't I—and eyes—and nerves." She shrieked and buried her head as a particularly vicious streak of lightning cut through the night. "Guess if anybody's got a right to be scared it's me—me all alone in this dam' dump."

She began to sob, chattering incoherently, the last shreds of refinement vanished. "Yeh, what do you know about me for a sap, leavin' Broadway for this! Me with guys buzzin' around thick as flies always waitin' to take me to all places—none of your cheap weakin' on dark roads for them babes; they know what a girl like me oughta have—night clubs, lights, whoopee—they're spenders, they are. Think they'd go 'round standin' a girl up, chasin' regular fellas away—there's Niel Pierson, he's regular all right—and where is he? I ask you. Me hangin' here like a prize Dumb Dora givin' Niel the gate and then gettin' panicked over the belief that she had half asleep now, drowsing over the lost Pierson as well as Ken, Puss wheel. Once she actually dropped off, bringing her head up with a jerk as the car went over a rut. Not a good thing to fall asleep on the road."

She pulled back the curtain, let the rain blow in her face to keep herself awake. And when finally she spied the chimney of the Stewart house she made ready to turn from the state road and ran along to Stenwall—drove into the yard there.

The house was hot and stuffy after coming in from the cool night, but Eve opened windows and doors. Almost before throwing herself down on a little bare cot brought from the attic she was asleep and she lay there all the rest of the night in her damp clothes, not stirring until a bird singing at the eaves awakened her to a world all newly washed and brightened under sheets of golden sunlight.

Puss was breathing heavily; there seemed no use trying to awaken her. So Eve put on the slicker and the tam and drove stood up—say, I gotta have a drink—"

She motioned toward the bottle and Eve silently poured a little of the liquor into a glass and gave it to Puss, who drank it neat.

As if the whole sordid picture had been daubed on dirty canvas, Eve saw what had happened. This common little siren, adventuring up and down, had followed Niel Pierson to Spring Garden; there circumstances had made it possible for her to try her wiles on Kenneth Wilmer, who had more to offer than Pierson provided he could be detached from his wife.

Puss had gone about the thing cleverly—not that much cleverness was needed to hypnotize Ken!—but just when things should have drawn to a climax Ken seemed to be slipping away. And then, in a away wondering what she should do. If only Ken could see Puss as she was! But Puss would not be caught that way by him and if Eve hinted at the true state of conditions Ken would fly to the girl's defense. Already Eve had said too much about Puss letting people believe she had written the Revelations. Ken had championed her against all insinuations and of course a man felt tenderness for what he defended.

It was the idea that Puss had been clever enough to write such a success as the Revelations which won Ken; he had not been more than mildly interested in her before.

This fact stirred a possibility in Eve's mind—something she could not quite grasp. Exhausted by all she had been through she was

"What do you know about me for a sap, leaving Broadway for this?"

WRECK OF MEXICAN ACE'S PLANE

This picture shows the wreckage of plane in which Col. Pablo Sidar, Mexican army air ace, attempted a nonstop flight on May 11 from Mexico to Buenos Aires. Sidar, accompanied by Lieut. Carlos Rovisor, encountered a storm and crashed into the sea off Porto Limon, Costa Rica. Both men were killed. Both bodies and this wreckage were dragged from the sea and taken to Porto Limon, where this picture was taken.

Scared the Mourners

Mourners carried Jose Merintez' coffin to a cemetery chapel in a village near Seville, Spain, and placed it beside another coffin. Up came the lid of the other coffin and out stepped a man. Mourners started to run in terror. The man explained he was the caretaker and had a favorite place for siestas.

RELIEF FROM CURSE OF CONSTIPATION

A Battle Creek physician says, "Constipation is responsible for more misery than any other cause."

But immediate relief has been found. A tablet called Rexall Orderlies has been discovered. This tablet attracts water from the system into the lazy, dry, evacuating bowel called the colon. The water loosens the dry food waste and causes a gentle, thorough, natural movement without forming a habit or ever increasing the dose.

Stop suffering from constipation. Chew a Rexall Orderlie at night. Next day bright. Get 24 for 25c today at the nearest Rexall Drug Store. Economy Drug Co., Johnson's Pharmacy, advt.

Quick Pile Relief

No Salves or Cutting

Pile sufferers can only get quick, safe and lasting relief by removing the cause—bad blood circulation in the lower bowel. Cutting and salves can't do this—an internal remedy must be used. HEM-ROID, the prescription of Dr. J. S. Leonhardt, succeeds, because it removes this blood congestion and strengthens the affected parts.

HEM-ROID tablets are sold by druggists everywhere, have such a wonderful record for quick and lasting relief, that H. P. Dunn and Johnson's Pharmacy always sell them with guarantee of money-back if they do not end all Pile suffering. advt.

THURSDAY, MAY 29, 1930

Decoration Day

CITIZENS tomorrow will pay tribute to the soldiers, dead or living, who made sacrifices in behalf of this nation. Decoration Day will be universally observed with that respect and devotion which is their due.

Governor Theodore Christianson, in his proclamation has well voiced the spirit of the day when he said: "We are approaching the day which the people of this commonwealth and of the republic have consecrated to the memory of their noble and heroic dead. Gratitude for the sacrifices of the men who lost their lives that the nation might live, inspired the idea of Memorial Day.

"The thought which suggested the inauguration of a sacred custom has gained force during the years. Each generation has surpassed its predecessor in the sacred task of commemoration, and this year more flowers will be placed upon hallowed graves, more eulogies pronounced upon soldiers living and dead than on any previous thirtieth of May.

"It is well that a nation remember the men who have made sacrifices in its behalf. It is well that a people renew its faith in its ideals. It is well that men and women make fresh acknowledgment that human freedom is the noblest cause for which one may die, and the greatest purpose for which one may live.

"This is an age which places great emphasis upon material things. Thank God that there are days set apart on which are stressed the spiritual values of the race. For material progress will not avail, nor can it long continue, unless there are spiritual forces to guide, inspire and direct. Our country will mingle with the dust of empires dead and gone unless its people give renewed pledge from time to time to the ideals and hopes which gave it birth.

"So, with reverence for the dead and loyalty to the living, with pride in the nation's past and unswerving faith in its future, let us assemble again on Memorial Day, Friday, May 30, in public exercises in every cemetery within the state where soldier dead have found their resting place. Let us scatter the flowers of grateful memory, and place on every grave a flag, the symbol for which they died, the sign for which it is our proudest privilege and most sacred duty to live and labor."

The National Conference of Street Safety

FOR the first time since 1926, a national conference on street and highway safety has been called in Washington, says the Minneapolis Tribune editorially. In the four years that have elapsed since the last conference, almost everything that the conferees greatly feared has come upon them. The automobile fatality curve has steadily risen. The number of persons injured on our streets and highways has increased in depressing fashion. We have more automobiles today than in 1926, we have greater traffic congestion, and we have more reckless and incompetent drivers to the square yard of Sunday pavement than ever before.

Nevertheless the conference of 1926 may have had its salutary effects. As Mr. Hoover suggests to the delegates now assembled, there is no way of telling just how much worse conditions might have been if there had been no conference, and no national forum for the free interchange of ideas, plans, and experiences. The trouble with recommendations made by a body of this sort is not that they are bad recommendations, but that there is no very practical machinery for putting them into effect. The conference is an excellent clearing house for ideas, but it can provide no positive guarantee that the ideas will ever take on substance. This is, of course, the conference's outstanding weakness. Its value is limited, and rigidly, by the sincerity and interest which the individual state and individual community bring to it. But potentially, at least, these national conferences offer an important key to the traffic enigma. If the key is not used, or at least experimented with, that is simply the community's own stupid loss.

Graduation Day Coming

GRADUATION day for the high school class of 1930 will soon be here and they will leave the school for the tasks of life beyond the school confines.

Every school is a huge power station from which come volts of energy to carry on the work of the world. The graduate of today is the citizen of tomorrow in whose hands is entrusted the supreme duty of carrying on the tenets of this great republic.

In the work to come there is no guiding high school teacher at hand. One must rely, as Rev. A. G. Patterson said in the baccalaureate address, upon that Great Guide of all and follow the teachings of the Book of Books.

We have seen many of these high school classes and to the happiness of the occasion one often finds tears mingled. It is a proud day, but it also means the breaking of the many school ties, of class groups and associations and of going out into the world where one's individuality is given the supreme test.

Passive Resistance

THE passive resistance campaign inaugurated by the Mahatma Gandhi in India is nothing new.

The Russian people used the general idea when they were pestered by the invasion of Napoleon and his troopers. The Russian peasants burned their homes and haystacks and destroyed whatever supplies they were unable to pack away, so that when the great commander and his troops arrived it was in a country which actually appeared famine stricken and one on which the soldiers could not live.

There was no Russian battle line to oppose him, no resistance. And Napoleon too has said that an army travels on its stomach, but traveling became desperate when there was little or no food for the army.

REID MURDOCK & Co., who operate pickle plants at Wadena, Deer Creek and Bertha, have sold their holdings and business to the Gedney Pickle Co. of Minneapolis. The price of cucumbers is reported higher this year than last season, according to new contracts written.

Gold-Colored Crepe Makes the Afternoon Dress, Shown at Left, With Medium Low Decolletage and Trimming of Bows and Belt Buckle in Back. There Are Georgette Insets at Neck and Cuffs. Built on Extremely Long Lines Is the Black Crepe Dress With Pointed Panels That Tie in Front. The Other Dress Is a Charming Print in Aquamarine and Brown.

Formal Fabrics for Day Frocks

Black - and - White Printed Crepe Prominent; Green for Spring.

One attractive Sunday night frock of moderate formality comes in very stiff black net, several weights heavier than tulle. It has a perky little bow at the front of the high waist, a simple V neck and an overskirt which carries the hemline dangerously close to the ground, notes a fashion writer in the New York World.

Those who prefer to wear a less formal dress and to risk a frenzied dash home to change for supper, will find a number of diverting afternoon frocks in the stores. These follow the same silhouette as the Palm Beach models, but have been made up in dark colors for the sake of unfortunate little stay at homes.

A large group of these dresses is of the sort which Worth has dubbed five-to-eight gowns, exactly the sort you will require on Wednesday. In these black and white is by far the most important of the color combinations. Green is also stressed. If you cast your mind back over the past few years you will see the logic of this, as every other color has had its season, ending with the dahila of the fall.

Buy everything of green, my girl, and you will be anticipating the spring mode by a commendable margin. The new nippon blue and crystal pink are shades designed primarily for Palm Beach wear, but they are excellent in combination with black.

One of the most charming of the new frocks of moderate formality comes in black-and-white printed flat crepe—a fabric that is important both for evening and daytime wear. The pattern is a splashy leaf design of black figures on a white ground, and it is draped about the figure by an ingenious arrangement which requires only one seam.

The skirt dips down to a definite point at one side and the broad black border of the material edges the hem. The self-belt is placed high. A top-sided cape collar of the fabric falls down to the elbow on one side and is caught up at the other by a pin of diamonds and emeralds (simulated as the advertisements honorably say).

Uses Three-Quarter Sleeves. Another of the striking dresses for afternoon wear is notable for its use of the very new three-quarter sleeves. The frock is of black flat crepe and hangs to a good four inches below the knee. The skirt is softened by a very full circular front. Nippon blue crepe forms a deep sailor collar and triangular vest and edges the full short sleeves.

This new sleeve development is something on which you should keep your eye in the coming months. Some of the three-quarter sleeves are to be crushed up above the elbows and buttoned tightly in place. Others hang loose. Worth uses a full, very soft sleeve, and other houses are stressing the "jelly bag" type, a variation of the sleeve used by Ardane for that highly successful black chiffon gown with the rhinestone cuffs which you should remember from the fall collections.

In the matter of accessories you cannot get off as easily as in former years. Different degrees of formality appear in everything, from gloves to handbags, and the old sports, town and evening classifications are no longer enough.

Among the most charming hats are those formal affairs that are cut high to reveal a bare forehead. This, a very trying fashion, is relieved by the vogue for little face veils, fetching affairs that slant out over the nose. Some of the veils have a cape effect in the back, and are allowed to fall almost to the shoulders.

Tricornes and bicornes are also popular, especially for the older woman, and the black-and-white combination is considered very important by the Paris milliners. One droll little hat of black felt is cut in beret lines and has a band of flat white grosgrain ribbon framing the face. This is carried about the hat and ties in a bow exactly at the nape of the neck.

Two-Toned Tweeds Favored.

Differences of opinion in Paris do not extend to costumes for traveling, it appears. For these there is but one dictum, says a Paris fashion correspondent. At least 80 per cent of the proper costumes for getting about the world smartly are of tweed or fancy jersey. And a lot of hand-knitted things may also be admitted to this category. The latter are mostly in the form of pullovers which repeat in their original patterns, the colors of the tweed skirt and coat.

Knitted caps or hats may also be worn while on the train or boat—and if one's destination is Switzerland they may continue to be worn for sports. Some long, hand-knitted mittens or gloves and high socks are then added. The scarf goes without saying—and all should match.

For the traveling costume, first choice is a tweed ensemble consisting of a three-quarter-length coat and rather short skirt. Three inches below the knee seems to be a popular length and the skirt must have plenty of fullness, but no bulkiness. The circular skirt with a hip yoke is particularly good style and lends itself admirably to the latest kind of tweed—nubby as to surface and quite thick, though as light to the touch as elderdown.

These latest tweeds favor two shades, one neutral for the background and one in a bright, often pastel, tone. All through the two-color patterns are sprinkled black and white flecks. Never too black and never too white, however, if your tweed is of the right variety.

Diagonals are very good and one of the smartest costumes we have seen at the Gare St. Lazare lately was being taken by its wearer aboard the Bremen. It was a brown diagonal tweed of the new shade for advance spring called mauve-brown—a deep brown with an undertone of mauve in it. The coat was full length and had a back yoke which did not reach to the center back, but made right angles with two incrustated vertical bands that ran all the way to the bottom hem of the coat, giving the short figure of its wearer a wonderful back line. At the bottom these incrustated bands widened about half an inch so that a slight flare was gained—most becoming to the average imperfect figure.

Coat Lining Matches Blouse.

A narrow suede belt was worn an inch below the top of the skirt band, and a satin blouse, several shades lighter than the tweed, but in the same tonality, had a turnover collar and brown bow tie. The lining of the coat was of the same shade as the blouse and it was hemstitched in lines about two inches apart, the full length of the coat. Brown lizard shoes and handbag of generous proportions formed perfect complements to this costume. A huge upstanding collar of natural lynx harmonized beautifully with the whole costume.

The Maison Hermes shows some pullovers which have had great success and have influenced the designs of a whole army of knitted garments this season. The best one is knitted to order, to match one's tweed, the main part of the sweater taking the darker tone in the material and a deep V yoke back and front taking the lighter tone. A two-inch band nearest the neck is in white or a pale beige shade. The normal waistline is slightly marked in the knitting of this model, and is further pointed out by a knitted-in belt of the lighter tone in the tweed, with a knitted buckle motif in the center front.

For the woman who wants complete comfort in traveling and no pinching in of the waistline by skirt band or belt, there is the smart one-piece tunic or feather-weight tweed frock, cut on semi-fitted lines. It may also be made of jersey tweed, that lovely new fabric, which has an open, lacy mesh and comes in two-color and three-color combinations in each pattern. There is usually a harmonizing tweed for coats.

FASHION FAVORS THE CAPE

Every smart frock this season carries a little cape—somehow, somewhere. It may be the most formal cape-collar extending to the waist at back, as in the first model shown; or, the briefest, casual cape for a sleeve as in the second model. But, always, if your frock is smart this season—it flaunts a cape in one form or another. Capes adorn morning, afternoon and evening fashions.

The cape theme is usually accompanied with a slightly dipping hemline, falling in low flares, if worn for formal afternoon occasions as shown in the sketches above. Chiffon is a favored fabric.

First Model: Pictorial Printed Pattern No. 5078. Sizes 14 to 42, 45 cents.

Second Model: Pictorial Printed Pattern No. 5156. Sizes 12 to 20, 50 cents.

Unique House of Paper

The "House of Paper" is located on Pigeon hill, in Rockport, Mass. Over 15,000 newspapers have been used to build it. Wood has been used for the framing, floor, ceiling, door jambs and eaves. Walls are of newspaper, 215 sheets in thickness, well varnished. The furniture, also, has been fashioned out of paper. The writing desks are of rolled newspapers, giving accounts of Lindbergh's flight to Paris.

Biblical Pictures His Forte

Hofmann, who painted the famous "Christ in the Temple," was a German, born at Darmstadt in 1824. He died in 1902. His pictures owe their popularity to his illustrative talent and ideal conceptions of Biblical events.

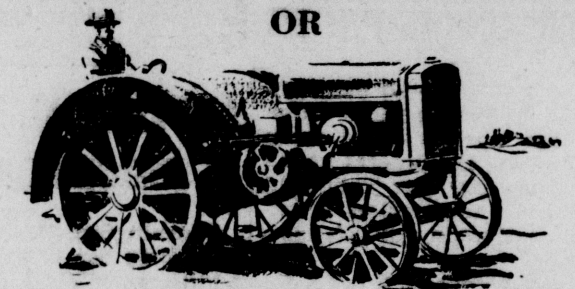

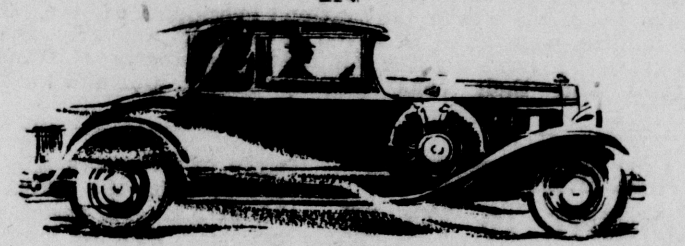

Leaves Too "Noisy"
Leaves in a garden bower in a movie set at Hollywood had to be sprayed with glycerine, to keep them from interrupting a singer. It was found that the leaves vibrated in the orchestral accompaniment, so that the rustle was apparent in the delicate microphone. The glycerine was used to soften this counter-vibration.

Sea Devil's "Fishing Tackle"
The fish known as the sea devil has a long tentacle floating from its head, like a fishing line ending in a piece of bait, and when this attracts curious small fish, snap go the sea devil's jaws.

Windfall for Railroad
Recent gales blew a thousand tons of seashore sand over railway tracks near Birkdale, England, and the company loaded it up and sold it in Yorkshire and Derbyshire. Usually local authorities charge the railway $5 a ton for sand taken from the beaches.

Champion Library System
The Los Angeles county (California) free library claims to have the most extended library system. It serves a population estimated at 488,000, sending books and other library material to 158 active branch libraries, several of which are nearly one hundred miles away.

Don't Stub Your Toe!

One dark night—so the story goes—a certain monarch placed a large boulder in the middle of the road. Thousands of his people, thereafter, severely stubbed their toes or troubled to walk around. At length, one lusty youth—wiser than the rest—seized the stone and heaved it from his path. And where it had rested, he found a bag of gold.

Are you stubbing your toe? Are you overlooking any bags of gold? How about the advertising in this paper? Do you read it—consistently? It is a bag of gold to many of our readers.

In our columns you will find the advertisements of alert, progressive merchants and manufacturers who seek to tell you something they think you ought to know. This advertising is news about the very things that interest you most—articles that will save you money, lessen your work, or add materially to your comfort and well-being.

Thrifty men and women read advertising. To them it is a plain, every-day business proposition—a duty they owe themselves and their purses. It tells them where they can buy exactly what they want at a price they can afford to pay.

Advertising pays them. They make it pay.

It will pay you too. Read it

City to Respond to Ceremonies Honoring Veterans

GRAVES DECORATED BEAUTIFULLY FOR RITES TOMORROW

LONGEST PARADE IN MEMORIAL
DAY HISTORY HERE TO FORM
ON SOUTH SEVENTH

PROGRAM AT EVERGREEN TO BE
IMPRESSIVE; PATRIOTIC
GROUPS TAKE PART

Graves of veterans of wars fought to uphold the democracy of the United States were decorated beautifully at Evergreen cemetery today by comrades of these wars, women of auxiliaries, members of their families and friends in preparation for the observance of the Memorial Day program there tomorrow.

The flowers, nurtured at home gardens, others from greenhouses, gave forth the sweetest of perfume which floated over the rows of graves. Hundreds of small flags waved in the breeze.

Tomorrow's observance of Memorial Day will be the greatest in the history of this city.

The parade which forms on South Seventh street between 8:30 A. M. and 9 A. M. facing north with colors at Laurel Street, will stretch beyond a mile in length.

The line of march will be north on Seventh street to Front street, east on Front to Broadway, north on Broadway to Kingwood, east on Kingwood to Third Avenue N. E., north on Third Avenue N. E. to the Lowell school, west from Lowell school to southeast gate of Evergreen cemetery.

Order of march:
Colors.
Firing squad.
Brainerd city band.
Official carriages.
Legion Auxiliary band.
Spanish-American war veterans.
World war veterans.
Members of Citizens Military Training Camp.
High school.
Campfire girls.
Lowell school.
Brainerd Ladies' band.
Lincoln school.
Whittier school.
Harrison school.

Any organization not listed will be assigned to a place in the parade by marshal of the parade, O. A. Peterson.

Program at the cemetery:
Music—Brainerd city band.
Invocation.
Music—Legion Auxiliary band.

Lincoln's Gettysburg address—Clarence Holden.

Music—High School Girls' Double Quartette.

Memorial Day address—O. F. Youngdahl, commander of the Fifth District, American Legion.

Music—Brainerd Ladies' band.

G. A. R. ritual conducted by Commander Edwards.

Decoration of the cross by commander of the G. A. R. assisted by Women's Relief Corps.

Closing remarks—Mayor Frank E. Little.

Star Spangled Banner, lead by male quartet with band accompaniment.

Salute—Firing squad.

Taps, directed by Ira Peterson.

During the formation of the parade from 8:30 o'clock on Seventh Street, the street from Laurel to Oak should be vacated for traffic and parking purposes, and it will greatly aid the committee in charge if only the few official cars for the G. A. R. contingent appear on this street from Laurel to Oak.

Special amplifiers have been installed at the cemetery to carry the voices of the speakers to all the listeners.

Veterans Form Squads

Veterans of the World War who will form the squad to march in the Memorial parade tomorrow and to honor the Grand Army of the Republic with a salute at the cemetery will be Ray Hall, Axel Anderson, Fred Anderson, Leigh Slipp, Robt. Gustafson, Earl H. Rhodes, Melvin Viste and Ralph Falconer in the firing squad. George Berkholder and Ernest Jeppson, color bearers, and Ray Northway and Melvin Gordon, color guards.

Capt. I. L. Peterson, Inf. Res., assigned to take charge states that the men will meet at the court house at 8:30 a. m. where they will march to the Mississippi river bridge for the ceremony there at 9 o'clock. Robert Wilson will sound taps at the bridge and also at the cemetery.

Members of the squad will wear the war time uniform and overseas' caps, except those in sailor uniforms and Capt. Peterson who has the present regulation uniform.

Candidates for the Citizens Military Training Camp will form in front of the Electric Garage at 9 o'clock to march in the parade. Art Hagberg, past commander of the Legion will take charge of the C. M. T. C.

Evergreen cemetery is the resting place of the following veterans:

GANGSTERS WITH SHOTGUNS HIDDEN IN GOLF BAGS

CARRY OUT MISSION OF VENGEANCE IN CHICAGO, ENDING IN A "RIDE"

UNIDENTIFIED VICTIM ENCOUNTERED SHOT DOWN IN DARK ALLEY

Chicago, May 29.—(U.P.)—Gangsters, with shotguns concealed in golf bags, carried out a mission of vengeance that ended early today in a "ride" for their unidentified victim, whom they encountered and shot in a dark north side alley.

One of the gunmen was captured by two night watchmen who seized him from the running board of the "ride" car as it started to speed away. The gangster was identified as Sam Hunt, 27, who previously had been arrested in company with members of the Capone liquor syndicate.

Police looked to the indictment yesterday of Ralph Capone, brother of "Scarface Al," on liquor conspiracy charges for a possible motive for the shooting, the victim of which might have been a government informer.

They likewise gave heed in their search for clues to the theory that investigations here in connection with the recovery of more than $1,000,000 worth of stolen jewelry in New York may have prompted the probable murder.

Search was on for 350 Chicagoans, many of them known hoodlums, who have been named in federal grand jury indictments charging conspiracy to violate the prohibition laws.

Several leaders in the beer and alcohol business were reported hiding out to escape service of warrants for their arrest. Among those who were unaccounted for was Ralph Capone, brother of the notorious "Scarface Al."

Federal agents said the indictments involved the greatest number of persons ever accused at one time of liquor law violations. They predicted every one of the suspects would be rounded up in a few weeks.

Ralph Capone and several other gangsters were indicted under the provisions of the Jones "five and ten" law, and it was believed they might evade arrest on the serious charges. Capone was charged with selling liquor at the Montmartre and the Cotton clubs, two Capone strongholds in Cicero, which federal agents recently raided.

Three of Capone's right hand men—Percy Haller, Harry McRae and Art Goldie—also were indicted in connection with the operation of the two night clubs.

ABRAHAMSON SETS NEW POINT RECORD, WINS DECATHLON

VON PORAT BEATS GAGNON, GAME FIGHTER, BY K. O.

SCORES 6464 TO DEFEAT SCHUETY,
LAST YEAR CHAMP

ART HAUTALA FINISHES THIRD FOR SECOND YEAR IN ROW IN SCHOOL MEET

ABRAHAMSON GOES OVER BAR
AT 10 FEET 4 1/2 INCHES IN POLE VAULT

Setting a new point record for individual scoring in Brainerd high school decathlons, Alfred Abrahamson, senior, won this year's decathlon which came to a close yesterday afternoon at Gregory Park. In winning he accomplished an achievement for which he has trained consistently the past three years.

Abrahamson scored a total of 6464 points. Nathan Schuety, last year's winner, finished second with 6336, and Art Hautala third with 5593.

The three finished in the top group last year also, Schuety taking first, Abrahamson second and Hautala, third.

The high previous score made by an entry in the high school decathlon was set by Schuety last year with 5589 points. Donald McNamara won the decathlon in 1928 with 5011 points.

Abrahamson improved in every event over last year, particularly the high jump, pole vault and javelin. In 1928 he scored 2913, in 1929, 5129 and this year 6464.

First place winners in the various events follow:

75-yard dash—Hoffbauer, 8.7.
Discus throw—Schuety, 82 feet, 6 in.
Broad jump—Schuety, 18 feet, 9 in.
High jump—Abrahamson, Hautala, tie, 5 feet, 3 in.
220-yard dash—Schuety, 28.8.
75 yard hurdles—Schuety, 11.1.
Javelin—Abrahamson, 142 feet, 1 in.
Pole vault—Abrahamson, 10 feet, 4 1/2 in.
Shot put—Abrahamson, 33 feet, 6 1/2 inches.

880-yard run—Moe, 2:11.9.
With the exception of the 75-yard dash a new record in each decathlon event was established.

The scores in this year's meet would have been greater had it not been for the fact that the runners ran against a strong wind.

Abrahamson, the winner, will enter the state meet at the University of Minnesota Saturday, June 7.

The decathlon was conducted under the direction of Coach Warren Kasch.

NOW CLAMORS FOR A MATCH WITH GRIFFITH

AS NEXT STEP IN CAMPAIGN FOR
TUNNEY

NORWEGIAN HAD SOME DEADLY PUNCHES AND WEIGHT AD-VANTAGE IN THE BOUT

By BERT DEMBY

(United Press Staff Correspondent)

Chicago, May 29.—(U.P.)—Otto Von Porat, the hard-hitting Norwegian heavyweight, today clamored for a match with Tuffy Griffiths, the Sioux City, Iowa, boxer, as the next step in his campaign to prove that he is the leading midwestern contender for the title left vacant by the retirement of Gene Tunney.

Von Porat's clamoring was based on his six-round knockout victory last night over Jack Gagnon, who previously achieved fame by scoring a technical knockout over Griffith, rated with Von Porat as one of the middle west's best heavyweights. Griffith subsequently avenged the knockout defeat by winning a ten-round decision here from Gagnon.

Last night, Von Porat was out to win by a knockout. He accomplished his purpose but in doing so he beat the game fighter who ever has appeared in the Chicago Stadium ring. Outclassed, but not outgamed, Gagnon was better at boxing than was Von Porat, but the Norwegian's deadly punches and weight advantage of 17 pounds proved too much for Jack.

It was a great fight with Gagnon doing most of the leading and Von Porat lying in wait to put over one of his deadly punches. It looked as though things had ended in the second round when Von Porat sent a straight left to the liver. Gagnon dropped and took a count of eight. He was down again before the round was over and was out on his feet when the third round started, but he fought back.

He defended damaging punches until the sixth when he took a hard right to the jaw and a straight left to the liver. That straight left is Von Porat's most deadly punch.

The fight allowed fans to look forward to the greatest "natural" which Chicago can stage—a battle between Tuffy Griffiths and Otto Von Porat for supremacy of the heavyweight division in the middle west and an early match with the winner of the Sharkey-Schmeling fight in New York next month.

The referee wanted to stop last night's battle because of a badly bleeding cut over Gagnon's eye, but the Boston fighter refused, although he was virtually blinded with blood. That's the kind of gameness Gagnon showed.

SLUGGING ROBINS GOING AGAINST NEW YORK GIANTS

WILL MAKE AN ATTEMPT TO RE-GAIN TIE FOR 1ST PLACE IN NATIONAL LEAGUE RACE

CAN TIE FOR THE LEAD IF THEY WIN THEIR GAME
TODAY

(By United Press)

Manager Wilbert Robinson sent his slugging Brooklyn Robins against the New York Giants at Ebbets Field today in an attempt to regain a tie for first place in the National League pennant race.

The Robins, who were hopelessly in seventh place at this stage of the 1929 race, are in second place, one-half game behind the St. Louis Cardinals and can tie for the lead by winning today.

The Chicago-Cincinnati game today was cancelled in respect to the memory of Pitcher Harold Carlson who died yesterday.

Walter Stewart pitched the St. Louis Browns to a 4 to 2 win over Detroit in the only American League contest. The Chicago Cubs pounded out a 6 to 5 victory over Cincinnati and Philadelphia lost to Boston, 5 to 1, in the National League tilts.

Detroit got to Stewart for three hits and two runs in the opening inning but were unable to score again. Whitehill worked well for the Tigers but weakened in the eighth and the Browns tallied the winning runs on singles by Blue, Manush, Kress and Schulte.

A four-run attack in the first inning enabled the Cubs to beat Cincinnati. Guy Bush was batted from the mound in the sixth when the Reds scored three runs, but Malone was effective in the relief role.

BOBBY JONES DEFEATS JOHNSTON AT ST. ANDREWS

ST. PAUL MAN LOSES IN SIXTH
ROUND MATCH FOR BRIT-ISH AMATEUR

BRILLIANT MATCH PLAYED, WITH JOHNSTON IN GRAND COMEBACK

By ARCH RODGERS

St. Andrews, Scotland, May 29.—Bobby Jones of Atlanta defeated Harrison Johnston of St. Paul, Minn., in a sixth round match of the British amateur golf championships here today. The score was one up.

The victory sent Jones into the quarter finals round, which will be played tomorrow morning with the semi-final coming tomorrow afternoon. Jones will meet N. W. Fiddian of Stourbridge, who won in the sixth round over the star young British Walker Cup player, Tony Torrance.

Fiddian beat Torrance by 4 and 3. The Jones-Johnston match was a brilliant affair. Bobby had things fairly well his own way during the outward nine finishing one up. Johnston made a grand comeback on the last few holes after having been as much as four down with five to play.

Holiday Sportreel Echoes

By HARDIN BURNLEY

Supreme Effort at Hand

By HARDIN BURNLEY

THIS week the world's sports news spotlight beams almost exclusively on the historic St. Andrews links where Robert Tyre Jones is striving for the one great golf crown that has thus far eluded his wizardly strokes—the British Amateur championship. A truly brilliant array of English, Scotch, two or three Irish, and a dozen or so Americans are also seeking that glittering golf title. But the most conservative of bookies will give you hardly better than "even money" if you wager on Jones to win.

The "Emperor" of golf is that good. In competition with at least a score of other very famous amateurs and fully a dozen highly skilled dark horses, Jones is such a pronounced favorite that, on the eve of the first matches, you cannot get odds against him—from speculative professionals at least. However, golf's paragon from Atlanta, Ga., is sometimes human in play. Last Fall, Bobby entered the U. S. Amateur an overwhelming favorite. Yet he was eliminated in the very first match by a rank outsider, youthful Johnny Goodman.

Those brief 18-hole contests are loaded often with dynamite for great stars. Bobby has been the conspicuous victim of such short matches. But the experts figure he will take the "low hurdles" at St. Andrews in winning fashion.

Four times winner of the American Amateur, thrice the U. S. Open champion, and twice victor in the British Open, Jones has failed thus far to win the annual classic in which he is now the pronounced favorite.

Regardless of the result, Bobby plans to play plenty of golf before returning to America early next Summer. He will enter the German Open at Berlin, June 5, re-cross the English Channel for the British Open later that month, shoot back to the Continent for the French Open at Paris, and, after a brief rest at his home, he will enter the U. S. Open, July 10-12.

In all but the amateur events, Jones will compete with his friend and arch-rival, Horton Smith, young Missouri pro. To many golf fans, those overseas tournaments will assume the aspects of duels. This year Horton nipped out Bobby at Savannah by a lone stroke, but less than a month later was second in their Southeastern tournament. This rivalry will be resumed in Europe. Some great duels are in prospect.

New Tones Shown for Spring Wear

Very Few Crude Colors to Be Used, Paris Correspondent Says.

The powers that direct fashion's trends have decreed the death of the sunburn vogue, declares a Paris fashion correspondent in the New York Times. The 1930 "elegant" will be herself. The dark damsel will wear a tan, of course, but the fair girl will protect her pearly complexion even if she has to take to veils and sunbonnets as her 1830 predecessors did. It is to be a time of much more individuality among women than when all the beaches were crowded with brunettes.

As fashionable colors are naturally designed to set off fashionable complexions, this change of skin vitally affects the 1930 sartorial color chart.

Few, if any, crude colors will be used this year. Rather, colors will often be toned with their own complementaries; for example, blue and orange will be mixed to produce turquoise and peacock tones—with a much more lively effect than the grayed pastels.

Blue always accompanies essentially feminine fashion epochs—as great painters have chosen it for the mantle of the madonna as a symbol of purity and spiritually—and it is coming back strongly into the 1930 mode. Navy blue will be one of the leading colors for evening as well as for morning and afternoon costumes. Then there are violet blues, and grayed-violet blues, and green blues; lapis-lazuli, peacock, turquoise and robin's egg.

As always happens when blue leads, a great variety of gray tones will follow, but there will be no neutrals. Grays will be "fair but false," being colored with livelier tones. Smoke gray and amethyst gray, toned with violet, will be popular for all times of day, as will sulphur gray, toned with yellow; grape gray, shaded with green; smoky topaz, clouded with orange; stone gray, chilled with blue, and agate gray, warmed with red. The perennial beiges will be grayed down to softer tones.

Two new gamuts of browns will be good, one a warm golden brown, which pales down to yellow beige, for blonds; the other a negre running into gray beige for the olive-skinned brunettes. There will be several rich reds—the red of the Jacqueminot rose, which in its lighter tints gives lovely pale pinks; Chinese red and an orange red slightly different from the tomato red so smart last summer.

Spring, of course, always fosters new greens. The bluish water greens and peacock hues give promise of popularity; in their darker tones they have the glint of a raven's wing. The green of oak leaves modulated with bronze will tint fashionable ensembles. Its lighter tones, which approach the color of spring water, are particularly flattering to blonds.

Yellows will abound on the beaches. They, too, will be different from the bright yellows of last year.

Two-color costumes, it is predicted, will be smarter than those of a single tone, especially black and white, pink and black, ecru, sand or beige and black.

Net, Crepe, Georgette Used in Combination

Fabric alliances many times are the cachet of chic in a frock. The new combination is net with crepe or georgette. The net is used not only for billowy lines, but in tailored and incrustated bandings, presenting an entirely new treatment. The effect is tailored, yet miraculously the dress is distinctly of the afternoon type.

The crepe afternoon dress with the flaring from the elbow sleeves often has incrustated bands of the net set in the sleeves and used as a finish for the neckline.

A similar employment of net is seen in evening gowns of crepe or georgette. The net forming godets in which the tailored suggestion is pronounced.

Reading the Bible in the public schools of New York City is not only permissible under the City Charter but does not violate any provision of the New York State Constitution or that of the United States, was the answer of Corporation Counsel Arthur J. W. Hilly to the taxpayer's suit brought by Joseph Lewis, president of the Free Thinkers' Society of New York, to restrain the Board of Education from allowing the Bible to be taught in the public schools. Argument on the motion will be held in New York City June 9, when it is claimed that Clarence Darrow will argue the case for the Free Thinkers. Arthur Garfield Hays, attorney for the society, and Major Joseph Wheless, former judge-advocate of the U. S. Army, with Mr. Darrow, will be arrayed against Counsel Hilly and the Walker administration. (International Newsreel)

From Queen to Peddler

Luisa of Tuscany and the Career Which Carried Her from the Throne of Saxony to Selling Laces in the Streets.

KING FREDERICK AUGUSTE

PRINCESS LOUISE & ENRICO TOSELLI

EX-CROWN PRINCE GEORGE

THE HOTEL AURORE at FIESOLE.

Once the reigning beauty and belle of the gay and brilliant court of Vienna, Luisa of Tuscany comes again into the limelight. From Brussels comes the report that the sixty-year Luisa is now eking out a miserable existence tutoring children and peddling laces from door to door. One of the touching episodes of her colorful life was made public in 1924 when Crown Prince George, son of the former King of Saxony, became a priest to obtain forgiveness for his mother's sins. Bee's Short Working Life

Bees may be industrious, but a working bee lives only about six weeks. At the end of that time its wings are frayed and it dies, not of any particular disease, but apparently from sheer exhaustion.

Agriculture in India

Two hundred and fifty-seven millions of acres of land are under cultivation in India. About one-third of this is in rice.

Oxygen Pumped for Torches

Cutting steel under water with electric torches is entirely feasible, and a good deal of work of that sort has been done. Oxygen is supplied from above for the torches just as it is for the divers.

A companionate friendship between two men doesn't have to be planned and set forth. It just happens—because the two are always happy in each other's company.

Marines Held in Gob Slaying

ALBERT DUFFY

ROBERT EVANS and BRIDE SEARCH FOR RIFLE USED IN SLAYING.

The authorities at Toms River, N. J., are investigating the murder of Robert Evans, former sailor, and Albert M. Duffy, Private Lester Underdown, a Lakehurst marine, and Private Claude Edgar Carmichael, with Mrs. Evans, are held in connection with the crime. Private Madison Chappel is held at Syracuse, N. Y., awaiting extradition. Jiles Leon Bagwell, a deserter from the U. S. Marines at Lakehurst, has also been placed under arrest at West Greenville, S. C. (International Newsreel)

Transparent Gem

Hiddenite is a green, transparent variety of spodumene used as a gem stone. A well-marked prismatic cleavage renders the mineral rather difficult to cut. Its color passes from an emerald green to a greenish yellow and is often unevenly distributed through the stone, which shows much fire when properly cut. Hiddenite was originally found as loose crystals in the soil, but was afterward worked in a vein stone where it occurred in association with quartz, garnet and other minerals.

When Time Drags

The self-made man was in the midst of his first interview. "How," inquired the reporter, "did you find time to read in those formative years?"

The self-made man patted his chest proudly.

"I kept a good book open on my desk," said he, "and read it during telephone calls—while holding the wire after some one had said, 'Just a moment, please.'"—New York Central Lines Magazine.

Remedy for Anemia

Powdered seal's liver was one of the commodities on view at the thirty-fifth annual chemists exhibition, at London. Seals, it appears, live a blameless and comfortable life in the icy waters of the North Atlantic and Arctic oceans. They do not know the meaning of "liver," and that organ remains in such excellent condition that it is made into an extract for the treatment of anemia and heart troubles.

MANY FINE WAYS TO EAT ALL-BRAN

All Relieve Constipation and Add Food Iron

There are literally scores of ways that Kellogg's ALL-BRAN can be eaten and enjoyed. Whatever way you eat it, ALL-BRAN is positively guaranteed to relieve both temporary and recurring constipation or your money will be refunded!

Many eat Kellogg's ALL-BRAN as a cereal. It is delicious with milk or cream. Another way is to use it in soups and salads. The practice of soaking it in fruit juice has grown very popular. Its addition to all cooked food is an appetizing and healthful one.

When you eat Kellogg's ALL-BRAN regularly, you have the satisfaction of knowing that you are enjoying one of the most healthful habits on earth. It not only relieves constipation, but adds iron to the blood. In combination with milk or fruit juices, it brings important vitamins to the diet.

Every one should eat it to supply the bulk needed to balance the soft foods eaten today. Include ALL-BRAN in all reducing diets. It helps prevent constipation and anemia.

Order a package of Kellogg's ALL-BRAN. Your grocer has it. Made by Kellogg in Battle Creek.

Be sure to get catalogues from reliable seed dealers, and do not fail to provide for flowers as well as food crops.

Sweet potato seed should be treated before bedding, to prevent black rot infection. If the hotbed soil is free from the black rot organism, healthy plants will be produced.

With proper attention, alfalfa will furnish grazing for hogs during three or four seasons before it becomes necessary to reseed. It must not be grazed so closely that the stand is injured.

New fertilizers contain less bulk than the older kinds. A ton of the concentrated fertilizer may contain between two and four times as much plant food as the fertilizer mixtures formerly used.

Oils AND Greases

The type of high-quality lubricants the manufacturer of your car urges you to use

THE manufacturer of your car knows the value of lubrication. He fully appreciates its relation to the amount of service and satisfaction you receive from the car he sold you. That is why he devotes page after page of his instruction book to emphasizing the absolute necessity of frequent and thorough lubrication with high-quality products.

Cities Service Oils and Greases are of the type the manufacturer of your car had in mind when he urged you to use high-quality lubricants. These lubricants are made from carefully selected crudes of supreme quality. They are refined with an experience dating back to the very founding of the oil industry, over 67 years ago.

They are then put to the most conclusive of all tests—the test of actual service—before they are offered for your use. Their quality is proved in a practical proving ground—in the Cities Service fleet of over 4000 motor vehicles.

Follow your manufacturer's advice—use oils and greases of unquestionable quality, such as Cities Service Oils and Greases. Make a Cities Service station or dealer your headquarters for oiling and greasing. Then you'll be sure of quality products supplied by trained experts who know how to lubricate your car as its manufacturer intended.

RIVETS MAKE THE TRUCK TANK GASOLINE-TIGHT

The TORRID ZONE
STEEL FURNACE
is gas-tight
and dust-tight
because it is
riveted

Walls and ceilings seldom have to be repapered or repainted in a home that's heated with a Torrid Zone

Furnace of boiler-plate steel. Floors, furniture and woodwork are singularly free from dust. It's all in the way this furnace is built.

For just as the truck tank is made gasoline-tight by hot-ripping and cold-calking... so the Torrid Zone is made gas, smoke and dust-tight.

And the air in a Torrid Zone equipped home is bound to be clean and healthful... for several reasons. First, the air is never tainted with coal-gas. Second, the air is moistfully healthful because a Torrid Zone humidifier has twice the evaporating area of ordinary water pans right inside the casing and, furthermore, is positioned for most rapid evaporation. Third, proper air circulation is guaranteed when a Lennox Furnace man installs according to the Standard Code. A Lennox Torrid Zone equipped home is a safe and healthy home for every member of the family.

NEW A. & P. STORE OPENS IN CITY

Is One of 15,000 Operating in Country; to be Combination Food Service Shop

The Brainerd store of the Great Atlantic and Pacific Tea Company opened at 618 Front street today.

The local store is one of a group of 15,000 branch stores operating throughout the country from the Atlantic to the Pacific, the first store being opened by John Hartford in New York 71 years ago.

The present owners of the chain are John and George Hartford, sons of the original owner.

Announcement was made by the E. W. Sutliff, superintendent of stores for Minnesota here for the opening that the company purchased last year from Minnesota farmers over 23 million dollars worth of dairy products and other food products bringing the total up to over 30 million dollars.

William L. Yde, assistant superintendent for northern Minnesota, assisted in the opening plans.

N. D. Angeli, formerly of Austin, is local manager of the grocery department and R. W. Ruedy of Minneapolis is in charge of the meat department. Both are married and will move their families here within the next two weeks.

The Brainerd store is known as a combination food shop handling groceries, meats, fruits and vegetables and operates as a service store.

TO GIVE TALK ON 'MENTAL HEALTH'

Crow Wing county is one of the favored counties to be selected for a joint Conference on Public Health and Social Welfare, to be held at Brainerd on June 6.

One of the main speakers of the evening program will be Dr. M. L. Stiffler. For his topic, Dr. Stiffler has chosen "Mental Health" on which he is especially qualified to speak. At present, he is director of the Child Guidance Clinic in St. Paul where he has been for the past six years. Before that time Dr. Stiffler was with the Veterans' Bureau of Minneapolis where he was a psychiatrist. Dr. Stiffler has also been a psychiatrist at the state hospitals at Denver, Colo., and Yankton, S. D.

Sponsors for the Social Work Conference at Brainerd are the General Extension Division of the University of Minnesota, the State Board of Control, the State Board of Health, and the State Conference of Social Work.

WOMEN TO REVEAL ARTS HERE JUNE 3

Information gained in home management classes by women of the county will be shown by exhibits at the "Checkup Day" program to be held at the farmers room of the court house, Brainerd, on Tuesday, June 3.

Lunch will be served by the St. Mathias 4H club.

Chorus of 75 Men and Women to Sing Tomorrow

A chorus of 75 men and women of Brainerd will sing at the Memorial day exercises at the program given at the cemetery tomorrow. They will be accompanied by the American Legion Auxiliary band. Miss Effie Drexler will direct. Chopin's funeral march has been chosen for the selection.

MEN'S CLUB CHURCH PROGRAM MONDAY

Rev. Oscar Rem to Give Address at Norwegian-Danish Lutheran Church

The Men's Club of the Norwegian-Danish Lutheran church will sponsor a program at the church Monday evening, June 2, at 8 o'clock.

After the program refreshments will be served in the church social rooms and a social hour enjoyed. A small admission will be charged covering both program and refreshments.

Hosts and hostesses for the evening are: Mr. and Mrs. Adolph Peterson, Mrs. Minnie Ebinger and Mrs. Annie Huseby.

The program follows: Hymn. Piano solo—Alice Swanson.

Vocal solo—Mrs. E. W. McCulloch, accompanied by Miss Ida Peterson.

Address—Rev. Oscar Rem, Pequot Selection—Quartet.

Reading—Margaret Holm. Vocal solo—Hilda Dybvik. Violin solo—Harold Moe. Closing.

HASKING, 80, WILL BE 'BABY' IN PARADE

Uhrichsville, O., May 29.—(UP)—A young fellow named Isaac Hasking, who went to war in '61 when he was so small they had to shorten the barrel of his musket, will march in the Memorial day parade here tomorrow as the "baby" of the G. A. R.

Hasking, who is only 80 years of age—"and chipper as ever" he will explain—is said to be one of the youngest veterans of the civil war.

He enlisted as a drummer boy, but when Stonewall Jackson's "foot cavalry" got the union armies on the run in the Shenandoah valley he was forced to abandon his drum and take up a musket.

Little Isaac was so short his comrades got a hack saw and cut 12 inches off the end of the gun.

He was honorably discharged at the age of 16.

SIX CYLINDER SENTENCES

BRAINERD 25 YEARS AGO

From the Daily Dispatch

May 29, 1905

It is expected with good luck that the new creamery will be started up a week from today. The machinery arrived today and Ben Armstrong, who will have charge of the setting of it up is busy getting things in shape. He expected to have everything ready by next Monday.

H. F. Michael received the sad intelligence this morning of the death of his brother C. G. Michael at Ozark, Ark., who was murdered by a man with whom he had had some difficulty. Mr. Michael was but 28 years of age. Without the slightest notice and while riding in a buggy, he was shot in the back of the neck with a shot gun and died almost instantly.

The bass season opened in Minnesota today. The waters are well stocked with the fish and from present indications bass fishing has never been better than it will be this year.

Decoration Day will be celebrated in Brainerd this year as formerly. The important features will be the honor paid to the soldier dead, for which an excellent program has been prepared.

The stores and public offices of the city will be closed. There will be a ball game in the morning at 10 o'clock at the ball park and in the afternoon there will be a shooting tournament by the Riverside Gun club at Woodland park. There are some 40 members in this club.

Mrs. G. D. LaBar left for Little Falls this afternoon where she will assist in a concert to be given this evening in the Congregational church.

The annual outing of the Elks will be held this year at Duluth at the time of the state convention. There will be a special train on June 7, which will return the same evening.

FARMER ACCUSED OF KILLING NEIGHBOR'S COW; DENIES CRIME

George Lawton, Dean Lake farmer, pleaded not guilty to the destruction of property as complained of by his neighbor Wm. Sangenberg in Brainerd municipal court this morning.

Sangenberg claims he caught Lawton in the act of starting to butcher one of his cows on his land night before last. He accuses Lawton of stabbing the cow. Another man with Lawton ran away before he could recognize him, Sangenberg said.

Breezy Point, Minn., May 29.—Viola Dana, popular motion picture star, who was in Minneapolis and St. Paul, flew to Breezy Point Lodge to keep a luncheon engagement with Captain and Mrs. W. H. Fawcett. Miss Dana was taken to Breezy Point by Mark Hurd, Minneapolis flier, and a landing was successfully made at the golf course.

PART OF STOLEN COPPER RECOVERED

Special Bell Telephone Officer Follows "Hot" Tip to Duluth Today

Part of the stolen copper coil of the Brainerd Exchange of the Northwestern Bell Telephone Co. taken from the Greener garage, northside, recently, has been recovered, Henry D. Hoffmann, manager of the local exchange reported today.

A special officer of the company assigned to the robbery was reported today to be following a "hot" tip that the balance of the 6,000 pounds of coil was taken to Duluth for disposal. He has left for the Zenith City to investigate.

CHAPTER XXXVII.

THERE was a bare little living room beyond the door, sparsely furnished with the flimsy odds and ends one finds in summer cottages rented by the season. The makeshiftness of the place struck Eve first of all, since quantities of cheap cushions, a soiled lamp shade and a mangy rug, all meant to impart an air of luxury, had hopelessly failed.

She stood in her dripping garments peering through the dim light and made out the rumpled little figure on the couch at the far side of the room when Puss raised a disheveled head.

"Wh—what do you want?" Eve giggled out of the slicker, letting it drop on the floor, tossed the tam-o-shanter on top of it, went over to the couch. She paused there looking down at the other girl, amazed and curiously distressed by the change in the little creature.

No fairy daintiness, no wondering childlike about her tonight. The once delicate face was swollen and spotted with weeping and, Eve soon saw, with what had come out of the half empty whiskey bottle on the table near by. Her hair hung in damp, untidy strings—even the curls had not been real!—and there were puffy rings under her eyes, lines etched about a sullen mouth. Puss was not the young thing she had pretended—easy enough to see that—she looked positively middle aged.

Stricken by shame as before an indignity, Eve turned her look away, all her resentment gone. Shameful, pathetic—and this was the woman who had filled Ken's thought, lured him into strange flights of imagination!

"I've been looking for Ken," she said gently. "He's out somewhere—out in this terrible storm—and I've been worried. I thought he might have stopped here."

"Well, he didn't," Puss said thickly, putting her head down and sending Eve a baleful glare. "But, Puss—you haven't seen him? Not at all today? This storm—I can't help being frightened."

Say, listen," Puss' voice was raucous, her soft wistfulness gone as if it never had been. "Listen. You don't have to come here to tell me there's a storm. I've got ears, haven't I—and eyes—and nerves." She shrieked and buried her head as a particularly vicious streak of lightning cut through the night. "Guess if anybody's got a right to be scared it's me—me all alone in this dam' dump."

She began to sob, chattering incoherently, the last shreds of refinement vanished. "Yeh, what do you know about me for a sap, leavin' Broadway for this! Me with guys buzzin' around thick as flies always waitin' to take me swell places—none of your cheap neckin' on dark roads for them babes; they know what a girl like me oughta have—night clubs, lights, whoopee—they're spenders, they are. Think they'd go 'round standin' a girl up, chasin' regular fellas away—there's Niel Pierson, he's regular all right—and where is he? I ask you. Me hangin' here like a prize Dumb Dora givin' Niel the gate and then gettin' panicked over the belief that she had half asleep now, drowsing over the lost Pierson as well as Ken, Puss had drunk herself into hysteria and now lay there disclosing her campaign to the enemy, as it were.

Tomorrow she again would be the sweet, simple child—take on the fairy mask to hide a calculating ruthlessness hard as nails. Tomorrow she would be in a frenzy over what she had said tonight if she remembered it—which seemed unlikely for now she was falling into a stupor of sleep.

Eve wanted to get away. Her fears for Ken were gone; always she was fretting over him, looking upon him as a child and all at once this seemed ridiculous. Rain beat steadily upon the cottage but the fury of the storm was past and Eve wanted to get out into the rain, to let it wash away the soil she had gathered here.

Puss was breathing heavily; there seemed no use trying to awaken her. So Eve put on the slicker and the tam and drove stood up—say, I gotta have a drink—"

She motioned toward the bottle and Eve silently poured a little of the liquor into a glass and gave it to Puss, who drank it neat.

As if the whole sordid picture had been daubed on dirty canvas, Eve saw what had happened. This common little siren, adventuring up and down, had followed Niel Pierson to Spring Garden; there circumstances had made it possible for her to try her wiles on Kenneth Wilmer, who had more to offer than Pierson provided he could be detached from his wife.

Puss had gone about the thing cleverly—not that much cleverness was needed to hypnotize Ken!—but just when things should have drawn to a climax Ken seemed to be slipping away. And then, in a away wondering what she should do. If only Ken could see Puss as she was! But Puss would not be caught that way by him and if Eve hinted at the true state of conditions Ken would fly to the girl's defense. Already Eve had said too much about Puss letting people believe she had written the Revelations. Ken had championed her against all insinuations and of course a man felt tenderness for what he defended.

It was the idea that Puss had been clever enough to write such a success as the Revelations which won Ken; he had not been more than mildly interested in her before.

This fact stirred a possibility in Eve's mind—something she could not quite grasp. Exhausted by all she had been through she was

"What do you know about me for a sap, leaving Broadway for this?"

WRECK OF MEXICAN ACE'S PLANE

This picture shows the wreckage of plane in which Col. Pablo Sidar, Mexican army air ace, attempted a nonstop flight on May 11 from Mexico to Buenos Aires. Sidar, accompanied by Lieut. Carlos Rovisora, encountered a storm and crashed into the sea off Porto Limon, Costa Rica. Both men were killed. Both bodies and this wreckage were dragged from the sea and taken to Porto Limon, where this picture was taken.

Scared the Mourners

Mourners carried Jose Merintez' coffin to a cemetery chapel in a village near Seville, Spain, and placed it beside another coffin. Up came the lid of the other coffin and out stepped a man. Mourners started to run in terror. The man explained he was the caretaker and had a favorite place for siestas.

RELIEF FROM CURSE OF CONSTIPATION

A Battle Creek physician says, "Constipation is responsible for more misery than any other cause."

But immediate relief has been found. A tablet called Rexall Orderlies has been discovered. This tablet attracts water from the system into the large, dry, evacuating bowel called the colon. The water loosens the dry food waste and causes a gentle, thorough, natural movement without forming a habit or ever increasing the dose.

Stop suffering from constipation. Chew a Rexall Orderly at night. Next day bright. Get 24 for 25c today at the nearest Rexall Drug Store, Economy Drug Co., Johnson's Pharmacy. advt.

Quick Pile Relief

No Salves or Cutting

Pile sufferers can only get quick, safe and lasting relief by removing the cause—bad blood circulation in the lower bowel. Cutting and salves can't do this—an internal remedy must be used. HEM-ROID, the prescription of Dr. J. S. Leonard, succeeds, because it removes this blood congestion and strengthens the affected parts.

HEM-ROID tablets are sold by druggists everywhere, have such a wonderful record for quick and lasting relief, that H. P. Dunn and Johnson's Pharmacy always sell them with guarantee of money-back if they do not end all Pile suffering. advt.
